SUFFRAGISTS TO FIGHT

$860,000 IS ASKED FOR MOTHERS

Pension System for State Backed by Board of Control, Is Planned

Presidential Candidates of All National Parties May Go on Ballot

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—An appropriation for $860,000 for a mothers' pension system is contained in a bill backed by the state board of control which will be introduced tomorrow in both houses of the legislature. This sum is the largest single item in the board's budget.

The system outlined in the bill is the keeping of children of dependent mothers in their homes, state aid being extended through the county government. The mother, under the bill, may apply to the board of supervisors for aid, which may be granted to the amount of $12.50 per month for each child, half to be paid by the county and half by the state.

RIGHT OF APPEAL.

When any mother is denied aid she is given the right of direct appeal to the board of control, which, under the bill will have on its staff three special investigators, to keep in touch with such cases. No formal appeal is necessary on the mother's part other than an ordinary letter.

Provision is made for the custody, in institutions of only those children who cannot be cared for at home.

The cost of administering the fund is estimated by the board at about two per cent of the principal as against about 20 per cent usual in private charities.

Because the prospective opening of the Panama Canal, and the possible incoming of thousands of dependents, the entire system is safeguarded by legal requirement of residence within the state for five years.

ALL PARTIES ON BALLOTS.

Presidential candidates of all political parties of national scope will appear on the ballot in California hereafter if Senator H. C. Jones, Progressive Republican of San Jose, succeeds in having passed a bill which he introduced in the legislature today.

The bill, he said, is intended to prevent recurrence of the situation which obtained in the state, last fall, when delegates to the Republican convention named a list of delegates instructed for Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram W. Johnson, presidential and vice presidential candidates on the Progressive ticket.

The only remedy for adherents of William Howard Taft, the regular Republican nominee, was to put his name on the ballot by petition and this was not done. A few thousand persons in the state wrote in his name

Gets No Immunity For Having Testified

Former Secretary Heike of Sugar Company to Serve Term.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Charles R. Heike, former secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, has no immunity from prosecution for having testified for the government before the grand jury in the "sugar weighing frauds," the Supreme Court so held today. The court held that Heike must serve his eight months' imprisonment and pay his $5000 fine.

Heike was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government. He had testified at a grand jury investigation under the Sherman anti-trust law into the affairs of the American sugar refining company. Later he was prosecuted in connection with the weighing frauds at the customs docks in Brooklyn.

Heike claimed he was immune against the latter prosecution by virtue of an act of 1903.

The conviction of Heike was the outcome of a series of proceedings growing out of the sugar weighing frauds, in which the company was required to pay the government more than $2,000,000.

Two burglars more interested in the market price of diamonds than the clinical aspect of Wuzzy's case entered the home of Dr. Milton Clark last night where Wuzzy is convalescing and tried to steal him. If it had not been for quick wit of a maid who hid Wuzzy, he would now be worth less than his weight in soup bones.

Redding Clergyman Identifies Dr. Horn

Picture of Alleged Brother Scoffed At By McClelland.

MARTINEZ, Jan. 27.—Rev. Frank Horn, of Richmond, in the county jail here on a charge of bigamy, was positively identified this morning by Dr. D. T McClelland pastor of the Presbyterian church at Redding, as the Owen F. De Tovrea who married Miss Mae Metz, and lived in Redding for some time. The minister picked Horn out from among a number of other prisoners, and later, in the sheriff's office, declared that the man's voice, actions and manner identified him better than his appearance.

Horn declared that he had never seen McClelland before, and that he was again mistaken for his twin brother.

Mrs. Eva McIntyre, Horn's mother, is here, and produced a picture alleged to be of Horn's brother. McClelland declared this could easily be Horn himself.

The mother, who lives in Portland, insists that there is a brother, and will stand by her son.

Paris Shaken by Terrific Explosion

Dynamite Lets Go, Rocking Houses for Mile or More in Neighborhood.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—A terrific explosion of dynamite early today shook houses for a mile or more around the Church of St. Sulpice, in the southern part of Paris. A great fissure was opened in the Rue de Sevres and the electric surface lines there were destroyed, but nobody was seriously injured, as far as has been reported.

The explosive is believed by the police to have been taken from the construction works of the new subway by some workmen who were recently discharged.

EVIL PROFIT IS REAPED BY MAN

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Takes Woman From Shadow of Social Crime

Result of Many Months' Investigation to Be Published by Commission

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—"Man not woman is responsible for the organized criminal social evil in this country," is the opinion of John D. Rockefeller Jr. "It is a man's business, run for profit and the profit is large."

These views are expressed in a statement made public by Rockefeller today, giving further details of the aims of the bureau of social hygiene through which Rockefeller and other philanthropists hope to attack and alleviate conditions which he considers "the greatest single menace to the perpetuation of the human race."

"The idea of establishing a permanent organization to co-operate with the social evil in this city," says the statement, "was the outgrowth of my service of six months as foreman of the 'white slave' grand jury appointed in New York City at the beginning of 1910. I came at that time to realize the extent and horror of hte evil and to believe that it constituted one of the great and vital evil problems of the day.

GREATEST SINGLE MENACE.

"In the judgment of eminent medical men, it forms, from the point of view of disease, the greatest single menace to the perpetuation of the human race. Therefore as a result of conferences with many people, the bureau of social hugiene was established.

"Under the direction of the bureau, George J. Kneeland, who conducted the investigation carried on by the Chicago vice commission has made a comprehensive study of vice conditions in this city; and Abraham Flexner has spent nearly a year abroad investigating the methods of dealing with this problem in the leading cities of Europe. We will make further studies in a number of the larger cities of this country. As each of these studies is complete, it will be published and until this is done, the bureau deems it unwise and premature to express any conclusions as to a method of dealing with the social evil in this city."

As to whether the unfortunate woman is a victim or a contributor to her own vicious career, Rockefeller says:

VICTIM IN MOST CASES.

"I say unhesitatingly that in the vast majority of cases she is a victim. Prostitution as now conducted in this country and in Europe is very largely a matter of busines. It is a business run for a profit and the profit is large. It is my belief that less than 25 per cent of the prostitutes in this country would not have fallen if they had had an equally good chance to lead a pure life.

"That they have been dragged into the mire in such large numbers is due to the variety of circumstances, among which are poverty, low wages, improper home conditions and lack of training, the desire to gratify the natural craving for amusement, pretty things, etc. But while all of these and many others may be contributing causes, man is chiefly responsible for their fall."

LOW TARIFF IS UNDER FIRE

Woolen Expert Declares Clothing Will Be No Cheaper With Duty Removed

Democrats Plan Ad Valorem Duty Lower Than 60 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Democratic plans for downward revision of the wool schedule of the tariff were under fire today before the House committee on ways and means.

General expectation among House Democrats is that the committee will report at the outset of the extra session virtually the same woolen schedule as was incorporated in the wool bill that passed the House at the first and second sessions of this congress, which was amended in the Senate last summer, compromised in conferences and vetoed by President Taft.

PROVIDES LOWER DUTIES.

The average ad valorem duty of the schedule in the present law is almost 60 per cent. The Democratic bill that serves as the tentative basis of the present consideration, provides very much lower duties.

Frank H. Bennett of Boston, editor of the American Wool and Cotton Reporter, argued today for the re-enactment of the Wilson law of 1894. This was a plea for entire removal of duties upon wool against a reduction of the tariff upon woolen goods to fifty per cent. The duty of 33 cents a pound, now assessed upon scoured wool, had imposed a tax of nearly $100,000,000 upon the American people besides hampering manufacturers, the witness said.

EXPECTS CHEAPER CLOTHING.

Joseph D. Holmes of New York, a woolen expert, recommending ad valorem and specific duties on clothing, an ad valorem duty on wool, with an additional duty on clothing to compensation for labor and mill cost, contended that clothing would be no cheaper if the duty on cloth were removed. He said that a suit or overcoat containing $3 worth of cloth wholesaled at from $8 to $9, and retailed at from $12 to $18.

John L. Wood of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, told the committee he had accepted in good faith the assurances that the contemplated tariff revision would injure no legitimate business.

Wood criticised the Democratic and compromise bills of the previous sessions of this congress as destructive.

Find Lost Link in Chain of Evidence

Baptismal Record of Early French Adventurer Basis of Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The lost link in a chain of evidence on which to base a suit for a $10,000,000 tract of land, now occupied by a part of the city of New Orleans is said to have been found in the discovery of the baptismal record of Joseph Valliere, an early French adventurer.

Persons claiming to be his heirs are scattered throughout the United States and for years attorneys in their behalf have been seeking to establish title to the Louisiana property, a strip 120 miles long and 80 miles wide, along the banks of the White river.

The baptismal record of Valliere was found in Quebec, Can. By means of showing his baptism in May, 1706, it is alleged that his descendants were traced in so direct a line that the heirs believe they can establish their claims.

Banker Must Serve Five Years in Prison

Supreme Court Declines to Interfere in Case of J. Thorburn Ross.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Supreme Court declined today to interfere with the five-year penitentiary sentence imposed upon J. Thorburn Ross, former president of the Title, Guaranty and Trust Company of Portland, Ore., convicted of larceny of State educational funds in his bank during the panic of 1907.

The trial court, in addition to the five-year sentence, imposed a fine of $176,873.74 or an alternate confinement in the county jail amounting to 790 years. The Supreme Court had set aside the fine and alternate confinement as excessive.

British Cabinet Decides to Drop Franchise Bill; Suffrage Feature Cause

LONDON, Jan. 27.—A declaration of guerilla warfare by the suffragettes, including sorties and riots to begin at once, was made by Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, the militant leader, at a meeting this evening.

Mrs. Pankhurst called for the names and addresses of those who were "prepared to take part in the gallant onslaught."

The suffrage leader declared that there were many women who were prepared to endanger their lives in the cause.

Miss Annie Kenny, who has been very prominent in the manuevers of the militants, added that the women would "make the lives of public men impossible," and in reply to an interrupter said:

"If you are a shopkeeper you had better look out. It is not just your windows which are going to be attacked. It is something else. We are going to get this question settled once for all."

Many shops immediately began to board up their windows.

NEW BILL NECESSARY.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The British cabinet decided today to drop the franchise bill. This decision was in deference to the speaker's ruling that the form and substance of the measure would be so materially altered by the amendment granting the vote to women that it ought to be presented in the shape of a new bill.

After the speaker's ruling it was only a question whether the cabinet would announce its capitulation before or later the

LAST TRIBUTE IS PAID TO CLARENCE H. WARREN

Hosts of Friends Mourn at Bier of Beloved Newspaperman

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—In the presence of sorrowing relatives and a host of friends representing every walk of life, and with many of his old acquaintances in the newspaper fraternity present to do him honor, the funeral services were said over the mortal remains of Clarence H. Warren, late city editor of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, this morning. The ceremonies were held in the mortuary chapel of N. Gray and company, and so large was the assemblage that there was not room for all those who would have crowded their way in to pay their respects to the beloved journalist.

The platform from which Rev. Charles Aked, pastor of the First Congregational church read the service for the dead, was banked with flowers sent by admiring friends and relatives and by Warren's old associates and co-workers on the OAKLAND TRIBUNE. The casket was covered with a floral tribute and the somber aspect of the scene was lightened by the presence of innumerable roses.

SERVICE IS BRIEF.

"I am the resurrection and the light, saith the Lord;

"He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live;

"And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

"We brought nothing into this world and it is certain that we shall carry nothing out. The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; Blessed be the name of the Lord."

So read Dr. Aked from the scripture and with the offering of several prayers the short Congregational service was concluded.

Mrs. Warren, the widow, was unable to attend the funeral by reason of illness and is under the care of a trained nurse at her home. The chief mourners were Dr. H. S. Warren and Mrs. Gertrude Jackman, children of the deceased; his sisters, Mrs. M. Pietrzycki, Miss Anna Warren and Miss Eleanor Warren, his son-in-law, Mr. Jackman, and his brother-in-law, W. B. Stainford.

The solemn service concluded, the members of the family gazed for the last time on the face of the beloved editor, after which the funeral procession passed from the chapel, the casket being carried by the following pall bearers, chosen from among the newspaper associates and close friends of the deceased:

Edward H. Hamilton and Al Murphy of the Examiner, Ernest Simpson of the Call, John F. Conners, managing editor OAKLAND TRIBUNE; J. E. Baker, editor OAKLAND TRIBUNE; Colin I. Spangler of THE TRIBUNE; Kirk Simpson of the Associated Press; Thomas Garrett, capitalist and former proprietor of the Evening Post; Charles Merritt, of Miller and Lux, and Elbridge Durbrow.

CREMATION AT CYPRESS LAWN.

The funeral cortege moved on to Cypress Lawn cemetery where at the crematorium a short service was held and cremation took place.

Since the death of the veteran journalist on Friday expressions of sorrow and grief for the family of the deceased have come from all sections. Telegrams and letters of condolence have been received from former employes and from acquaintances of years ago who had lost touch with Warren in his later life but who remember his kindness and his leadership.

TRIBUTE IS PAID.

As a tribute to the memory of Clarence H. Warren, late city editor of THE TRIBUNE, the editorial, business and mechanical operations of the newspaper were stilled at 10 a. m. and remained so for five minutes. There was no click of typewriter or telegraph during that time and linotypes and presses were silenced.

Western Canada Is Facing Meat Famine

Great Scarcity Follows Destruction of Cold Storage Plant.

CALGARY, Alberta, Jan. 27.—Western Canada is threatened with a meat famine. The amount of beef in cold storage after the Burns Packing plant here, which was destroyed by fire recently, was greater than at first thought. Burns estimates that $700,000 worth of dressed beef was consumed, with many as much more in pork and mution.

The result has been a sharp rise in prices. Beef on the hoof has risen from 5 to 7¼ cents, and is scarce even at these figures. Retailers are boosting prices proportionately.

Blood Poison Develops and Hope of Recovery is Abandoned.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 27.—Dr. B. F. Cunningham, of Reno, came here last night in a special train to attend Mrs. William Harrington, wife of Assemblyman Harrington of Ormsby county. The run was made in record time. Mrs. Harrington was vaccinated several days ago and blood poison developed. She is also suffering with meningitis and there is little hope for her recovery.

Pioneer Shot in the Head; Attempted Suicide Evident

RICHMOND, Jan. 27.—Michael Murphy, proprietor of the Golden West Hotel in this city, was shot through the head some time last night in his bedroom. The discovery of his body was made by his son who entered the room this morning to see if his father, who had been ill, desired lunch. A revolver lay beside the aged man, and he was still alive. He was taken to the Abbott hospital. There is no hope of his recovery, declare attending physicians. Murphy is a pioneer of this city, and has, for some time past, been a sufferer from locomotor ataxia. Whether this illness drove him to shoot himself is not known. The man had not regained consciousness late this afternoon.

Murphy is 60 years of age, and has a wife and several children. He has been prominent in business and politics in Richmond for many years.

DISCUSS ACCIDENT.

The accident yesterday on the Dublin road in which Mrs W. D Smith was killed, was discussed. Supervisor Foss asked an account of the mishap, in case it might be possible, by road repairs, to prevent similar occurrences

"It is not a question of bad roads," said Supervisor J. D Murphy. "It might have happened anywhere and was due, I believe, to carelessness. The driver of the auto turned out too far, because he did not see a motorcycle until it was almost upon his machine."

OAKLAND WOMAN KILLED WHILE ON AUTO EXCURSION

W. D. SMITH.

MRS. W. D. SMITH VICTIM; 3 HURT

Husband Receives Serious Injuries as Result of Collision.

Mrs. W. D. Smith, wife of a local real estate man, was instantly killed, and her husband and two other passengers seriously injured in an auto wreck yesterday when, in an attempt to avoid collision with a motorcycle which suddenly appeared in the path, Byron Smith, the driver of the car, drove off a culvert on the Dublin road The car was wrecked and the four occupants hurled to the ground.

The injured are W D Smith, and Byron Smith, brothers, living at 1734 Grove street, this city, and Mrs R James, 1268 One Hundred and Tenth avenue.

Mrs. Smith's neck was broken. She was dead when picked up by her husband. Smith sustained severe injuries to the legs, both members being crushed in such a manner that it is feared he will be injured for life.

The two Smith brothers were on their way to Pleasanton when the accident occurred, and had taken the two women along for an outing.

TRIES TO PASS CYCLIST.

Byron Smith was driving. A motorcyclist suddenly swung into the roadway immediately before him at a sharp run in the road To avoid running the man down, Smith attempted to swerve his car to the left and pass the cyclist on a narrow culvert bridge over a small creek.

The automobile crashed into a corner of the bridge and overturned into the creek, hurling the occupants of the car into the bed of the stream, some six feet below. Mrs. Smith struck on her head and was instantly killed. Mrs. James sustained a possible fracture of the pelvic bones W D Smith suffered serious injuries to the muscles of both legs and his brother, Byron, was badly but not seriously cut about the shoulders.

OTHER AUTOISTS GIVE AID.

The occupants of several passing automobiles went to the aid of the victims The body of Mrs Smith was taken to the Pleasanton morgue and later brought to Oakland. Dr. C. F. English of Stockton saw the accident and aided the wounded. He said:

"Mrs. Smith must have been killed instantly. Her neck was broken. I picked up her husband and took him to his mother's home, 1734 Grove street, Oakland."

Mrs. James was hurried to Hayward by Vanclief Wehe of Oakland, who was passing in an automobile, where she was given first aid and later removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. William Gall, 1286 One Hundred and Seventh avenue, Elmhurst. Leon Joubert, a real estate man of Oakland, rushed Byron Smith to the Hayward Hospital. Later in the evening he was taken to his mother's home in Oakland.

"We left my home for our usual Sunday run," said W. D. Smith, the husband of the dead woman, "and were returning when this accident occurred. I think my brother failed to notice the ditch on the side of the road. If he had not turned to the left he would have run over the motorcycle."

The Smith brothers are employed by Burg Brothers, a San Francisco real estate firm, at 660 Market street. Mrs. Smith, before her marriage, was Miss Grace Williams of Byron. She had been married four years. She was 28 years old. There are no children.

1000 PUPILS REMAIN OUT OF BERKELEY'S SCHOOLS

Vaccination Order Bars Many; Police Officer to Expel Obstinate

BERKELEY, Jan 27. — Berkeley's schools reopened today after two weeks' vacation with more than a thousand pupils out, because they had refused to be vaccinated. The exclusion of the unvaccinated occurred without disturbance A conference of the anti-vaccination forces with an attorney later in the day resulted in no definite line of action, though this party declared that it proposed to fight the exclusion of the children.

Preliminary to the opening of the schools this morning, President Morris C. James issued a definite set of orders to the teachers and principals. They were to demand certificates of successful vaccination from all applicants for admission. When such certificates were not forthcoming the child should be excluded. Force should not be employed if he refused to leave, but a peace officer summoned to expel him.

LEAVE VOLUNTARILY.

Such drastic measures were not needed, however, the children leaving upon notice. Of 2034 children who filed "conscientious objection to vaccination" cards earlier in the term, about half had surrendered and been vaccinated. This left approximately a thousand pupils out.

Members of the anti-vaccination forces, headed by Commissioner John A Wilson of the city administration; President Samuel Taylor of the Anti-Vaccination League, and others met soon after the opening of school at the Board of Education rooms at the high school They adjourned later to the office of Attorney T F. Graber, where means of fighting the action of the school board, of which Wilson is himself a member ex-officio.

Mrs Samuel H Strite, wife of S. H. Strite, manufacturer's agent, of 2431 Dana street, offered to make a test case of her 12-year-old son, Victor The boy was excluded this morning from the McKinley school after presenting a "conscientious scruples" card. Mrs Strite has been numbered for some years with the anti-vaccinationists.

MAY RESORT TO COURT.

Her offer was discussed, as were other plans, but no definite action was taken. The anti-vaccinationists planned the submission to the school board of a formal notice of protest against the exclusion of their children. It is probable that this will be followed by appearance in court looking to the securing of a restraining order.

A crowd of several hundred pupils, excluded from the schools, and parents waited upon the Board of Education and Superintendent James this morning Crowded into the corridors of the polytechnic annex, they were kept in order by Patrolmen H. P. Lee and J B Leonard. No action in their cases was taken.

BOARD MEMBERS CONFER.

Members of the school board conferred informally this morning, but beyond morally endorsing Superintendent James' instructions to the teachers, took no action. School Directors H. I. Stern, Herbert Briggs and Frank Heywood were a unit in standing behind the superintendent. Wilson believed the law was on the side of the anti-vaccinationists, and that the children with "conscientious scruples cards should be admitted.

The Board of Health held a conference yesterday afternoon, attended by Dr W F Snow, secretary of the State Board of Health, who came down from Sacramento because of the serious nature of the difficulties here The members of the board decided to stand firm in their determination for vaccination. The executive part of their task, it was decided, was up to the school board, upon which the law prohibiting the admission of unvaccinated children is now mandatory

HURRY CALL FOR FAIR DAUGHTER

Caught at Theater, and Rushed Home; Feared Elopement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. — Adela Rogers, the 17-year-old daughter of Earl Rogers, the Los Angeles attorney now defending Clarence Darrow, was snatched from the jaws of what she declared was an imaginary danger last night, when her father, by long distance telephone, ordered her immediate return to Los Angeles

He had been told and feared greatly that his daughter was about to elope with Ralph Morgan, leading man of the Broadway Jones company at the Columbia theater, who is married.

The girl's capture was carried out by W E Travis, president of the Taxicab company of California and a close friend of Rogers.

He took her from the audience of the Columbia theater, where she sat in evening dress, her frail beauty set off by a large picture hat.

She was rushed to the St. Francis hotel and from there, with only five minutes to spare, weeping and still in her evening dress, put on board the 10 o'clock Southern Pacific train for home. Her father had ordered that she be sent home at once, even if a special train had to be hired

The girl admitted the attentions of Morgan, but denied positively that she had any intention of eloping with him. She went, however, when she learned that he has a wife in the east.

What Rogers really did save his girl from was an attempt to get on the stage in Chicago. She had all her plans laid for this and had kept it secret from her parents. Her mother is ill in Los Angeles.

Miss Rogers arrived in San Francisco on January 20 She had come by the consent of her parents, supposedly to visit Miss Edith Luckett, a member of the "Broadway Jones" company, with whom she became intimate in Los Angeles.

She had hoped to rehearse a skit here and have it accepted by Chicago producers in a week or so. Then she had planned to go there and appear in the little play.

She told all these ambitions to the men and women of the theatrical company. They sympathized with her and were kind to her and her vague wishes hardened into a set plan.

She registered at the St. Francis Hotel and during the last week has been going about with the members of the company She went to the Columbia nearly every night, sitting well in front and studying with deepest pleasure the life of the footlights as it appeared from that side.

When Rogers in Los Angeles heard that his daughter was about to elope with Morgan he moved quickly.

Rogers is a man of action and he applied all his brains in the task of stopping the affair. He called up his friend Travis and talked to him at intervals for an hour. He gave detailed instructions as to just what was to be done

"Go to any lengths and to any expense," he said, "to get her started back home tonight."

Travis knew the girl and soon found out where she was. He went to her in her seat at the Columbia at 9:30 o'clock and told her that her father had sent for her. The girl came willingly, fearing that it was bad news from her mother.

MISS HELEN SUTPHEN BRIDE OF DE GOMEZ

At a quiet home wedding this afternoon Miss Helen Sutphen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Sutphen, became the bride of Victor de Gouez. Rev. Alexander Allen of St. Paul's Episcopal church read the impressive ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride was becomingly attired in a modish traveling suit. The home was beautifully decorated in yellow tulips and other spring flowers and ferns. The young couple left after ceremony for a two-weeks' honeymoon trip after which they will make their home in San Francisco for a year. At the end of that time they will leave for New York for a two years' study abroad.

The young couple are both well-known in musical circles here.

COUPLE REUNITED; DIVORCE CASE ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Katie Bird was granted a divorce decree from John N. Bird in the superior court some time ago, but no final decree was ever entered. This morning Attorney Edgard C Levey brought letters to show that the couple were reunited and were living happily in Livermore. The court at first declared that he did not believe he had the authority to dismiss proceedings, but a decision of the supreme court was cited and the interlocutory decree was set aside.

FATHER YORKE GIVEN BIG PURSE AT RECEPTION

Presentation Is Made at Large Gathering of Parishioners

As a mark of appreciation of the services given the parish, Rev. Father P. C. Yorke, pastor of St. Anthony's church of East Oakland was presented with a purse of $1000 yesterday afternoon at the reception tendered him by the parish. This represents a sum subscribed to by members of the church as well as by friends of the distinguished clergyman The presentation was made by Judge William H. Donahue, who was the speaker of the afternoon. Hugh Hogan, chairman of the committee of parishioners, delivered the eulogy upon the work of Father Yorke.

During the reception there was a musical program furnished by St. Anthony's orchestra and a solo by Joseph Rosborough. On behalf of the Sunday school of Lourd's convent, Miss Norma Thoman and Miss Mary Brusher gave brief addresses.

Judge Donahue paid Father Yorke a generous tribute in telling of the great things accomplished during his priesthood and of the exemplary and square life led by the pastor He dwelt at some length on the eulogy of Father Yorke by Archbishop Riordan at the silver jubilee mass.

JUDGE DONAHUE SPEAKS.

Judge Donahue said:

"We all know that upon an occasion when we are called upon to speak in commendation of the character of services of another we are prone to say pleasing thing about the one we honor. But, fortunately, we parishioners of St. Anthony's and the friends of Rev. Father Yorke, who are here to celebrate with him the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, know him so well as pastor and friend and as a citizen interested and helpful in maintaining equal rights, our free institutions and the law of the land, who know his courage, his devotion of God's work, his piety and his learning, see in him a priest and pastor worthy of the very highest degree of admiration, respect and confidence, to whose 25 years in the ministry too high a tribute, can not be paid

Father Yorke has many friends outside of this parish He is called friend and instructor beyond the borders of this state, which was evidenced by the many congratulatory messages which came to him from many sections of the nation upon the celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary by the clergy and laity a few weeks ago.

FATHER YORKE RESPONDS.

Father Yorke responded to his parishioners with a few simple words of thanks for their kindness and thoughtfulness. He said:

"I seldom have difficulty in talking, but I hesitate now at what to say to you to express fully what I feel for your great kindness and the love you have demonstrated. Your action this afternoon has fully repaid me for every day of my work and for any little things I may have done for you. My sacrifices, however, have not been so many as you make them, nor my good deeds so good. I have always tried to do my best and have held up before myself the ideal of service and square dealing for everyone.

"At best I am but a servant and a shepherd. I am the shepherd and you are my flock. And I hope the coming years will hold for me an opportunity for doing a far better work than I have so far done, and that they will deal kindly and lightly with you, the members of my flock."

The arrangements were made by a committee of parishioners headed by Hugh Hogan, chairman% M. A. McInnis, secretary of the parish committee, and Frank H Garcia, treasurer.

DOCTOR IN COURT IN SLINGSBY CASE

Handwriting Experts Enlisted in Effort to Clear Tangled Thread.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Dr Chas. Fraser of Weaverville, accused of falsifying a public record in connection with the alleged substitution of the Slingsby baby, appeared before Police Judge Shortall this afternoon. This is the first time that the case has reached a court, although a warrant was issued for Doctor Fraser some time since The fact that he was the only physician in Weaverville, and that there was an epidemic of sickness there, caused the marshal to refuse to arrest him. Since that time the district attorney has been investigating a mass of evidence, including the testimony of handwriting experts; which has been obtained in an effort to show that Mrs. Slingsby substituted the child of Lillian Anderson, when her own babe was born dead.

On the other hand, Lieutenant Slingsby and his counsel protest that they will have evidence to prove to the contrary, one of the most interesting bits being the remarkable resemblance said to exist between the officer and the child whom he claims for his own.

Mrs. Fenton testifies that the overindulgence in intoxicating liquors of her spouse caused most of the trouble in the household. She says that on one occasion he threatened to kill her with a pistol. Her evidence was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Charles E. Ruthe. Mrs. Fenton wants $50 a month alimony.

HOTEL REGULATION LAW INTRODUCED

Drastic Features of Former Measure Absent; Mayor is Sponsor.

At the instance of the public welfare and censorship commission an ordinance regulating hotels and lodging houses and providing for a register of guests containing the real names of the hotel patrons was introduced in the city council this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott. The ordinance will give the police complete control and regulation of hotels and lodging houses.

The ordinance is a substitute for a bill that was introduced several weeks ago, but which was considered too drastic. The new one has not the mass of regulations as to the length of sheets, cubic feet of air in sleeping rooms, but retains the drastic regulations with regard to the register of guests.

By the terms of the ordinance it is made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine of $500 or imprisonment of six months in the city jail, for a man to neglect to register his true name and real street address in the hotel register, and the same penalty is imposed upon the hotel manager who shall permit any such act. It is also made a misdemeanor to permit the use of rooms in the hotel for any irregular purposes. No objection has been raised by the hotel men.

PURCHASING AGENT MAY LOSE OFFICE

Civil Service Ordinance Causes Mixup; Salary is Held Back.

James Nelson, purchasing agent of the city, and former secretary of the old board of public works, and police and fire commissioners, before the new charter went into effect, is awaiting with some anxiety the action of the civil service commission under the ordinances just passed placing his department under civil service regulation. In his present position, Nelson has no civil service standing, and the enforcement of the regulations in his case may operate to cause his discontinuance as a city employe.

So anomalous is the present position held by Nelson that since November his salary has been held up by City Auditor George Gross, and while Nelson has been on the job every day, he has not been receiving any compensation for his work. Just what action can be taken by the council to provide for Nelson is puzzling the officials. Nelson was receiving $200 a month until his salary was suddenly held up by the auditor.

"It would not be just to force me to take an examination," said Nelson today, "I would not accept a mere clerkship in any other department. If I find that the alternative is forced upon me, I shall resign."

The case of Nelson is similar in some respects to that of W. A. J. Franke, whose position was recently allowed to lapse at the end of this month after being a city employe for eleven years.

The board of public works, which consisted of the mayor, the city attorney and the commissioner of public works, was also the police and fire commission. It was abolished by the new charter, some of the functions being exercised by the commissioner of public works and others by the mayor or city council.

For convenience, the new city council, on taking office, placed all the employes of the old board of works in the department of public works. Commissioner F. C. Turner had little use for all of them, and they were distributed around, Frank Colbourn going first to the city clerk and afterward to the civil service commission, John McNiece going to the purchasing department and others being placed in other departments.

James Nelson had been chief clerk of the old board of public works, being the successor of Walter Fawcett in that position. He was made head of the purchasing agents' department.

The ordinance passed last week by the city council at the instance of the civil service board transferred the purchasing agent's department to the department of public affairs. The ordinance will permit the civil service commissioners to investigate the department, classify employments, call for examinations and create an eligible list for promotion.

Nelson is head of the department, but has no civil service standing there. Under the charter Nelson has a civil service standing as senior clerk in the department of public works. But the purchasing agent is now under the department of public works.

The civil service commission may see fit to fill the position of purchasing agent with a man who shall be made eligible by formal examination and certification, in which case Nelson would be asked to take an examination or allow himself to be transferred.

"I put in this system myself," said Nelson today. "It is one of the best in the state, and forms an absolute check on municipal expenditure for supplies. It has saved the city thousands of dollars, and so far as I know there has been no fault found with it.

"Would it be just to ask me to take an examination to qualify to have charge of a system that I myself originated and put into practice.

ALLIES AT WORK DRAFTING NOTE

Hostilities May Not Commence for Many Days.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The drafting of the note rupturing peace negotiations was begun this morning by the allies. The committee of delegates entrusted with this important work consisted of Michael Madjaroff, Bulgarian minister in London; Professor Georgois Street, Greek minister to Austria-Hungary; Dr. M. R. Vesnitch, Servian minister to France, and Count Voynovitch, chief of the cabinet of King Nicholas of Montenegro; with M. Pollis of the Greek delegation as an adviser on questions of international law.

The committee expected to complete the note before nightfall and submit its work to envoy sitting for the Bulgaria, Greek, Montenegrin and Servian delegations.

15 DAYS OF PEACE.

However, even if the Balkan allies were anxious to resume hostilities, which it is currently reported they are not anxious to do, at least 15 days must elapse before the guns can again begin to roar.

Even if the draft of the note is completed tonight its revision by the delegations will take some time and the final draft could not be presented to the Turkish delegation and to Sir Edward Grey, as honorary president of the peace conference, before Wednesday

As it is understood, the note will give the Turkish delegation three days in which to answer, the expiration of that period would occur on Sunday, so that the Turkish reply would not be delivered until Monday next.

MUST NOTIFY POWERS.

Then the allied delegations will have to notify their respective governments and ask Sir Edward Grey to convoke a final sitting of the conference for the official rupture of the negotiations and also in order to thank the British government for its hospitality.

This will take at least three days, making it February 6. Then the governments at Sofia, Belgrade, and Cettije must denounce the armistice.

Working with exceptional celerity, this could be done the next day and hostilities could then be resumed on February 11, following the expiration of the four days' notice required.

In the meantime the fortress of Adrianople may fall and this is expected to become the automatic solution of the problem.

'GURAHONEC' TOO MUCH FOR WIFE OF HORBATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Because his wife did not like the new post to which he was transferred, she refused to accompany him and deserted him, says Geza Horbath, a railroad man, in an action for divorce begun this morning against Irma Horbath. The couple were wedded August 15, 1900, at Groxwardeini, Hungary. Soon after the company for which the husband worked, transferred him to Gurahonec, which he alleges is a pleasant place to live despite the queer-sounding name. He has not heard from his wife for some time, but thinks she is living in the same town in which he met her, at the Hotel Rimonodze.

S Johnston of Contra Costa who also represents a large labor vote then presented a petition from his constituents which he said "endorsed certain labor legislation" and remarked "I am in favor of it myself."

While presentation of petitions was still the order of the day Assemblyman Stuckenbruck of Acampo presented a long petition from residents of San Joaquin county asking the repeal of the law preventing the shooting of wild ducks from power boats.

All the revenues of the State are needed to take care of the administration of the State's affairs, said Inman, in introducing the resolution, "and it is apparent that if the terribly overcrowded conditions at our hospitals and asylums are to be remedied, it will have to be done in this manner."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 —Neither the state rate case nor the intermountain rate case were decided today by the supreme court.

SHOP KEEPERS BAR WINDOWS

vote had been taken on Sir Edward's Grey's amendment. The amendment called for the omission of the word "male," and thus practically introduced adult suffrage.

Premier Asquith asked the speaker to state again in more definite form that if any of the women's amendments were carried, the franchise would become substantially a new bill and would have to be withdrawn. This done, Asquith announced that the cabinet would not prolong the discussion under the circumstances, but would drop the bill.

POLICE ON SCENE.

The precincts of the House of Commons presented many of the features of a well-defined encampment, when the House met this afternoon to bring to a conclusion the current chapter of the work for the enfranchisement of women.

Mounted and foot police were to be seen everywhere in great strength. Two thousand patrolmen and 100 mounted men were actually on duty, while large reserves were hidden in the vicinity of Parliament.

Those suffragettes who had been admitted into the outer lobby of the House of Commons and those in the vicinity of the House, took the rebuff to their hopes with ominous quiet. The outer lobby was safely guarded by lines of police so as to prevent any possibility of the women breaking in, and the inner sanctum was crowded with representatives of various suffrage societies, but there was no demonstration.

Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst and her sister militants will hold a meeting tonight to settle their course of action.

POLICE HAVE EFFECT.

The great display of police effectually dampened any projected outbreaks on the open space fronting the Houses of Parliament. The crowds of women, many carrying sandwich boards advertising the views of rival organization for and against women suffrage, were swept back from Parliament Square to the adjoining streets and barriers of sturdy policemen effectively closed all the approaches to the House of Commons.

THREATENS MILITANCY.

After the government decision had become known, Mrs. Pankhurst stated that the women could not accept for a moment the suggestion of a private members bill, She added.

"Unless we are told that we are to have a government measure given equal voting rights to men and women, or that the so-called suffragist ministers have resigned, our duty is immediately to resume militancy."

DENIES SHARP PRACTICE.

Premier Asquith repudiated the suggestion that the government had been guilty of sharp practice regarding the question of woman suffrage. He declared the members of the cabinet had honestly endeavored to carry out their pledges to challence a decision from the house on women suffrage The government, he continued, had now pledged itself to give to a woman suffrage bill introduced by a private member next session the same facilities as it had given to the controversible government measure, allowing members complete freedom to vote in accordance with their individual predilections.

CORPORATION TAX LAW CONSIDERED

Trend of Sentiment in Assembly Favors New Rates.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27—Consideration of the amendments to the corporation tax law proposed by the joint Senate and Assembly committee on revenue and taxation Saturday, was taken up in the assembly today The general trend of sentiment in the lower house seemed to be for the immediate approval of the new rates and the passage of the bill as soon as the machinery of the law permits.

The taxes will be levied on the gross earnings and the corporations admit there will be an increase of ten per cent in the earnings this year over last. When this ten per cent increase is made to the figures of gross receipts on which last year's taxes were levied and the tax for the coming year is figured at the new rate, which is four and three-fourths per cent, there will be large additions to State revenues.

The gross receipts of the Southern Pacific for 1912 were $59,954,884 83 and the amount of taxes paid was $2,470,228 74 If the earnings are 10 per cent higher this year, the tax for next year at the new rate will amount to $3,132,547.

LIGHT AND POWER COMPANIES.

The Santa Fe, which paid $661,999 44 last year, will pay $929,453, and the Salt Lake, which paid $73,521 50, must pay $186,794.

The United Railways, San Francisco, will have to pay $413,079, an increase of $106,125 over last year.

The Henry Huntington corporation, Los Angeles, the Los Angeles Railway, which paid $184,029 last year, will pay $296,869, and the Pacific Electric, owned by the Southern Pacific, will pay $406,089, as against $196,474 last year

The rate of the gas and electric companies was raised from 4 per cent to 4 3-5 per cent, and under this the Pacific Gas and Electric Corporation will pay $688,874 instead of $512,065, and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric will pay $191,620, instead of $132,568

With an increase from 3½ per cent to 4 1-5 per cent the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company will have to pay $450,-815 and the Home Telephone Company, Los Angeles, $59,079 Last year the Pacific paid $311,435, and the Home Telephone Company paid $37,770

The Pullman Company, which paid $57,-159 last year, will have to pay $85,975 if its gross earnings exceed those of last year.

WANTS OFFICIALS TO STAY ON JOB

Assemblyman George Beck Heeds Demands of Jeffersonian Club.

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27. — Assemblyman George Beck, the only Democratic member of the Assembly from Alameda county, has introduced on behalf of the Jeffersonian club of Oakland, a bill prohibiting judges, sheriffs, county clerks, clerks of courts, constables and their deputies, justices of the peace, police judges and their clerks and court stenographers from carrying on any other business while employed as a public official All district attorneys of counties of the first, second and third class and their deputies and assistant deputies are also prohibited from accepting other employment or carrying on any other business while in the employ of the county.

This bill was drafted following the unanimous adoption of a resolution of the Jeffersonian club of Oakland on January 23 This resolution recites that an amendment to the political code affecting the officials enumerated is considered essential to the best interests of government.

The Democratic stalwarts in their resolution make it incumbent upon Assemblyman Beck to "make it his sacred and solemn duty to see that the proposed amendment is submitted to the prompt consideration of the legislature and use all his ability and best endeavors to see that said proposed amendment beenacted intolaw."

Stockton Asylum Inspected by Solons

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27. — One hundred and forty-four persons, members of the legislature and their families, were guests of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce yesterday and were shown over the Hospital for the Insane and taken through the old and inadequate buildings housing over 2000 insane patients. The party left Sacramento in a special electric train of three coaches at 9 in the morning and returned shortly after 8 in the evening.

The trip was arranged by Assemblyman W. C. Wall of Stockton, who wished to take members of both houses to the asylum to show them actual conditions and the need of the appropriation for more accommodations. At the station the party was met by fifty automobiles.

Following the trip to the asylum the party were guests at lunch at the Stockton Hotel of the Chamber of Commerce. C. T. Neumiller acted as toastmaster for the after-lunch ceremonies, and the speakers who responded to toasts were Mayor R. R. Reibenstein, Assemblyman W. C. Wall, Senator George W. Cartwright, Speaker C. C. Young, Senator A. Caminetti, Assemblyman W. A. Johnstone, Assemblyman E. C. Hinkle, Assemblyman J. J. Ryan, Assemblyman J. W. Stuckenbruck, Senator J. L. Avey, Senator J. B. Curtin, Assemblyman T. D. Johnston, Assemblyman G. B. Finnegan, Senator Prescott F. Cogswell and Dr. L. McMahon of Stockton.

On the way back to Sacramento a trip was made to Lodi, where the party was entertained for half an hour by the city officials at the Mokelumne Club. Assemblyman J. W. Stuckenbruck was master of ceremonies at that entertainment.

PTOMAINE SUSPECTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Ptomaine poisoning is thought to have caused the death of John Staraton, a painter, of 3707 Sacramento street, who was taken suddenly ill last night and died this morning. Staraton had dinner in a Fillmore restaurant last night and something he ate is believed to have been of a poisonous nature.

GELDER PROMISES WAR ON MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Berkeley Solon Would Wipe Out Its Control in California

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27 —A stormy and tempestuous time is promised for the state branch of the American Medical Association at the second half of the legislature, when a measure designed to wipe out the control of the American Medical Association over the medical affairs of the state will be introduced by Assemblyman George Gelder of Berkeley

Assemblyman Gelder proposes to attack the present state law from the standpoint of accepting the American Medical Association's standard to govern the actions of the state board of medical examiners, rather than accepting a standard as prescribed by law made within the State of California to govern conditions within the State solely and not those rules and standards set by the American Medical Association, which he terms not applicable to conditions.

That the standards as prescribed by the American Medical Association are discriminatory and made for the benefit of the wealthy student as against the poor students, will be another one of Assemblyman Gelder's contentions

STANDARD AND SCHOOL.

The Berkeley solon declares that the qualifications of a student to practice medicine are not based only on his knowledge of that subject, but that a standard is set for him through the size and importance of the school from which he graduated. He says that the American Medical Association rules gives certain credits to the medical student on the basis of how much money has been endowed the school, how many professors are employed and even to the extent of figuring on the sanitary conditions of the college buildings as to what percentage of sunshine finds its way into the study rooms.

Assemblyman Gelder says that the same conditions as govern law students in California should govern medical students He declares that students graduated from medical colleges chartered by the State should be allowed to practice upon receiving a diploma, as is the condition surrounding law students graduating from practically all the law schools in the State.

Separate boards for all branches of medicine that are distinctive are advocated by Assemblyman Gelder. He says that materia medica therapeutics, surgery and practice are eliminated from the examinations before the state board of medical examiners at the present time, because, he insists, that the conflicting ideas of the different schools of medicine on these essentials there is no unanimity on the board as to the method of procedure.

AMENDMENTS GO THROUGH.

The amendments to the city charter of Berkeley have gone through the Assembly. They were handled by Assemblyman Gelder. The amendments have already been ratified by the Senate and after engrossing will go to the governor for his final signature. There is no opposition to the amendments, although the one affecting the payment of school directors by the city of Berkeley may result in the introduction of an amendment to the statute governing the payment of school directors to make it mandatory for the board of supervisors of a county to pay the salaries of all school directors and to provide for this salary in the general school tax levy in all school districts.

Because of confusion in the present law the responsibility for the payment of salaries to school directors could not be placed with the result that the city of Berkeley amended its charter to take the school directors under its wing. It is now up to the city to pay $15 a quarter to the directors of the city board of education of Berkeley, and at the same time turn their money into the county school fund for apportionment. It is on this fact that an amendment to the present law will in all probability be based.

CITIZENS ON PUBLIC WORK.

Declaring that its operation would tend to elevate the level of the working class in California, especially in the construcion camps, by barring aliens from even the most menial of work in connection with State, county or city work or building, Assemblyman George Fitzgerald of Oakland explains Assembly bill No. 88, which he has introduced. This bill makes it compulsory that no one but a citizen shall be employed on any public work under the supervision or control of the State, county or city.

Two other pro-labor bills have been started on their way toward passage by the Assembly committee on capital and labor. Assemblyman Walter A. McDonald appears as author of them.

One of them, A. B. No. 374, would extend the purview of the eight-hour law to include minors under 18 years. The other McDonald bill is A. B. No. 75, which is called the "cement bag bill." It provides that the manufacturers of cement shall pack the material in leak-proof containers so that the dust shall not fly out, injuring the health of the laborers handling it.

NEW STATE HOLIDAY.

January 24 will from now on be a legal holiday in California if a bill introduced by Senator Caminetti becomes law. The bill provides that January 24 shall be known as "Discovery Day," in honor of the discovery of gold by James W. Marshall at Coloma, El Dorado county in 1848 Special stress is laid in the bill to the necessity of the public schools observing the day.

Senator Hans of Oakland, not to be outdone in State patriotism, introduced a bill providing that the bear flag, which was last year adopted as the State emblem, be unfuried over every schoolhouse and State building on every State or national holiday. The bear flag is to be floated with the American flag uppermost.

The Progressive Protection League, a negro organization of negro voters of the State, will wage a campaign against the adoption of Senate bill No. 468 (Anderson and Assembly bill No. 487 (Moorhouse). These bills, which have been referred to the committee on education in both houses, propose to amend section 1662 of the Political Code relating to the course of study for elementary schools, the admission of pupils to such schools and the expulsion of certain pupils from such schools.

It is proposed that separate schools may be provided for negroes, Indians, Chinese or pupils of Mongolian descent The classifying of negro children with Chinese or Mongolian races is what rankles, according to T. A McEachen, organizer, founder and president of the negro voters' league. He declares such a law would stir up race hatred and the negro voters of the State will make their force felt against any and all who vote for the passage of the bills

FOURTEEN DAYS REMAIN.

Fourteen legislative days remain for the first half of the session, if the concurrent resolution introduced by Assemblyman H. S. Benedict of Los Angeles is adopted by both houses. Benedict's resolution provides that the legislature shall reconvene on March 10, after a thirty-four-day recess. This would fix the day of adjournment on February 4.

The high cost of living as it affects California will be investigated by the State Assembly, if the resolution offered by Assemblyman George B. Finnegan of Nevada City is acted upon favorably by Speaker Young. The resolution as introduced by Finnegan is:

"Whereas, The cost of living for many years has been gradually on the increase, augmenting more rapidly than the incomes of the people, especially those forced to labor daily for the support of themselves and their families; and,

"Whereas, In the State of California, trusts and monopolies, under various names and systems, have been formed for the purpose of controlling the product and increasing the prices of supplies of all kinds, including food, clothing, building material and other commodities, with the result that it is becoming daily more difficult for those of limited or small means to enjoy the comforts and necessities of life, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That a special committee of five Assemblymen be appointed by the speaker of the Assembly to investigate the conditions which permit of such inequalities in the cost of production and the price of products to the consumer in the State of California, and also to inquire into the status of combinations and agreements and monopolies operating against the laws of the State, and to recommend to the legislature at its next regular or special session such statutes as may tend to ameliorate the present conditions."

AMENDS POLITICAL CODE.

Assemblyman Beck has presented a measure amending the Political Code affecting the index to registrations. Beck declares registration is one of the mooted questions in Alameda county and that this bill is simply a step toward simplifying matters.

The bill provides that within five days after the binding of the registration books the clerk shall prepare an index of each book, these indices to contain the number, names (including Christian and given names and middle names or initials if any), sexes, occupation and addresses as they appear in each book. The clerk is also required to have as many of these indices typewritten as shall be required for each election, provided the requirements do not exceed ten copies and the cost of typewriting not exceed 1 cent per name.

Because he is a trustee of Mills College and interested in conducting that institution at the least possible expense, as set forth in his communication, F. M. Smith, Syndicate building, Oakland, has requested that Assemblyman Beck get behind the constitutional amendment to exempt certain property of educational institutions from taxation. The constitutional amendment referred to reads:

"Any educational institution of collegiate grade within the State of California, not conducted for profit, shall hold exempt from taxation its grounds, not exceeding 160 acres, its buildings and equipment, bonds and other securities, used exclusively for the purpose of education."

The National Short Ballot League, of which President-elect Wilson is president, has asked Beck to introduce a bill eliminating from the ballot and making them appointive the offices of secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and state treasurer.

State Solons Quit Hotel at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—Led by Assemblyman "Bill" Scott and singing the hymn of the Progressives, "Onward Christian Soldiers," the entire San Francisco delegation in the assembly moved from the Hotel Clayton in Seventh street to the Hotel Trow on "K" street because the first-named establishment had refused to give recognition to the laundry workers union which struck for higher wages.

Some of the large hotels are being picketed. The union declares laundry girls are paid too little. Two laundries became unionized and the others took action to lift the boycott.

Assemblyman Walter McDonald of San Francisco, a labor leader, canvassed the hotels to present the cause of the union and found that the hotel in which the San Francisco delegation was staying would not patronize a union laundry.

Members of the Los Angeles delegation living at the Sequoia hotel, however, served notice on the management that if the union is recognized they will move.

Mrs. A. J. Wallace, wife of the lieutenant-governor, headed a petition to the hotel managers asking them to patronize the union laundries and aid the girls fight for an increase.

RE-ECHO FROM 1901 BATTLE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27. — Bills repealing the newspaper signature and cartoon laws passed in the heat of the 1901 senatorial campaign, will be introduced in the legislature, as a result of a conference yesterday of members of the executive committee of the California Press association.

The signature law requires newspapers to publish names of writers of articles criticising individuals. The cartoon law provides that pictures of cartoons of persons shall not be permitted without the person's consent. Both are virtually dead-letter laws.

WANTS RESCUE FARM.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27. — A bill to establish a State industrial farm for prisoners of San Quentin and Folsom, where they will engage in farming, stock raising, brick making gardening, fruit raising, cement making, lumbering and quarrying, has been brought to Sacramento by Captain William I. Day of the California prison commission and probably will be introduced this week

THE TROUBADOUR REACHES SPARKS

Francois Gets to Bed Once Before 3 P. M., Surprising Himself.

(Francois, the Troubadour, who is walking from the Hotel Oakland to the Waldorf Astoria and singing his way across the continent, will describe his experiences in THE TRIBUNE.)

(By FRANCOIS, THE TROUBADOR.)
Special correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.

The latest telegraphic advices from Francois was received yesterday by the Hotel Oakland as follows:

Sparks, Nev., Jan. 25, 1913.

Hotel Oakland, Oakland California.

Left Reno this morning. Arrived here at noon. Remain Sparks until Monday as guest of the Southern Pacific board of examiners in their private car. Weather warm and clear. Regards to all.

FRANCOIS, THE TROUBADOUR.

Special correspondence to THE TRIBUNE

Reno, Nevada, Jan. 23, 1913.

Arrived in Reno yesterday at 11:30 o'clock in the morning and went to the Hotel Golden and was invited to become the guest of that hotel while in Reno. After luncheon I called upon Mr. Fulton, the assistant general passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company at Reno, and was received by him most cordially Before leaving Reno I will have a similar letter to the one given me by Mr. Charles Fee from Mr. Fulton.

Went to Sparks a little later in the afternoon to call on Mr. Easton, the assistant general superintendent of the Sparks division of the Southern Pacific, but was disappointed in finding that he was out of town. Was entertained, however, by Mr. Brown, the dispatcher of this division, and members of his office force. Mr. Brown issued orders to the operators and agents on the Sparks division to O. S me in and out of all stations and assist me in every way possible. The boys in Mr. Brown's office saw the names of several people on my cartridge belt and requested that they might also add theirs to my album. This was granted and there was a scramble over who should be the first to inscribe. Spent about an hour in Sparks.

I returned to Reno early in the day and there called at the office of the Reno Gazette, gave that paper the story of my trip and latter, with a letter of introduction from the Gazette to Mr. Davis, the owner and manager of the Wigwam theater here Mr. Davis gave me a contract to appear at the Wigwam on Friday night at a very liberal figure.

Nothing of any importance occurred yesterday with the exception that I succeeded for the first time since leaving the Hotel Oakland of getting to bed before 3 o'clock in the morning. Got up at 9 o'clock and again went to Sparks and this time was successful in finding Mr. Easton. We had quite a little confab and after some coaxing I added his name to my cartridge belt. I thoroughly enjoyed my visit and will call on him again tomorrow.

I called at the Reno Morning Journal office and found to my agreeable surprise no less a person occupying the editorial chair there than Mr. Fred Goodsell, a former newspaperman of Oakland. He promised faithfully not to reveal my identity until I had reached New York City and inquired after many of the newspapermen of Oakland. As I had only met a few of them before leaving Oakland I could not give him the gossip that he would have liked to have heard.

Dined this evening with Mr. G. Borden of the Chamber of Commerce of Berkeley, California, and had a most pleasant time.

Tomorrow evening I will give the following concert at the theater here:

Rudolph's Lament, La Boheme; prize song, Der Meistersinger; Es hut nicht sollen sein, Von Nessler; Ist Liebe Nich, Meidenberg; Annie Laurie, Absent, Metcalf; Celeste Aida, Aida; La Donna Mobile, Rigoletto; A Winter Lullaby, DeKoven; Stein Song, Bullard, and Way Down Upon the Swanee River. If Gustav Schultheis had only written a song instead of the Hotel Oakland March which he dedicated to Mr. Reiter I would be able to add that to my repertaire Have had a rehearsal and the Reno Gazette speaks of my work as follows:

"One thing is assured and that is that he has a voice that will help him work his way across the continent and even across the world * * * The fortunate ones who will hear the young man at the local theater will never regret the time spent as he has a voice of remarkable sweetness."

Am greatly charmed with Reno. The people are splendid and will be sorry to leave the town. Best wishes to THE TRIBUNE and its readers.

Sincerely,

FRANCOIS, THE TROUBADOUR.

The following letter has been received by L. Richardson, Oakland district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, from J. M. Fulton of the Southern Pacific at Reno:

Reno, Jan. 22, 1913.

Mr. L. Richardson, Oakland, Cal., Dear Sir: Francois, the Troubadour, has just finished a special article for THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE on the winter sports at Truckee for which I gave him some data. I intend keeping in touch with him until he reaches Ogden. I will give him a letter to the end that if he gets mixed up with one of our Nevada blizzards with the temperature twenty or thirty below zero, that the farmers, live stock men, section men or any one else would provide shelter and food.

Sincerely,

J. M. FULTON.

CONSTRUCT BASE FOR MAINE RELIC

Spanish War Veterans Build Concrete Pile for Armor Plate.

Under the direction of Warren McGowan, fifteen Spanish War Veterans of Lisetm Camp, No 7, yesterday at Lakeside Park, constructed the base of the pedestal that will hold the torpedo portfacing of the ill-fated battleship Maine. From 9 o'clock until nearly noon the men toiled, mixing concrete, excavating the earth and finally molding the pedestal that will hold the relic presented to the order in recognition of their excellent work during the war by the government. In the center of the pedestal a three-inch blank brass cartridge was embedded. The hollow cartridge contained a role of parchment upon which is inscribed the names of the members of the camp, including those who died fighting for their flag.

The cartridge also incased a number of coins of various denominations. Those who assisted in yesterday's ceremony were: R F. Faneuf, H. F. Huber, Charles J. Hogan, Dona Clark, Harry Berger, Phillip Madge, Robert S. Mudge, Warren McGowan, James Parsons, F. W. Spence, A. K. Goodmanson, K. S Beal, H. C. Moore, John S. Koford and M. O. Huber.

As soon as the concrete mixture becomes solid enough the torpedo portfacing will be placed upon it, and also a heavy bronze plate, which will carry the insigna of the veterans. All of the work will be done by the members of the organization, with the exception of the casting of the plate.

February 16 has been chosen as the date for the unveiling of the monument. On that occasion as many survivors of the former great battleship Maine as possible will be present to participate in an imposing program, which is now being arranged. It is expected that fully 500 uniformed veterans of the Spanish-American war, as well as a number of G. A. R. representatives, will be on hand.

A battery salute of 21 guns will be given by Battery B of the National Guard, which will also execute several maeuvers. Yerba Buena has consented to send over a battalion of sailors, who will be accompanied by the Marine Band of the island. The stallers will but put through a series of marches, and the band will play popular and patriotic airs. Numerous other features for the day and evening's program are also being planned.

FERRIES CRASH; CROWD IN PANIC

Melrose and Bay City Collide in Fog; Women Are Scared.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—With the sound of crashing timbers and a shock that threw the passengers to the floor, the Southern Pacific ferry boats Melrose and Bay City collided in a dense fog on the bay at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. A panic followed. Men and women hurriedly fastened on life preservers and rushed to the rails. Several women tried to jump over but were restrained by the deck hands.

The collision occurred off Yerba Buena Island. Both ferries were blowing their whistles at intervals of a few seconds. The Melrose was headed for San Francisco from First and Broadway, Oakland. The Bay City had left the San Francisco slip and was bound for the Alameda mole.

The rail and guards on the Bay City were smashed and the portside badly dented. The rudder of the Melrose was broken. It struck the Bay City as its engines were reversed and it turned to starboard from the shock of the collision.

After a brief investigation it was found there was no danger of the ferries sinking and they continued on their journey. Later they were taken to the Southern Pacific shipyards in Oakland.

Captain Peter Wold of the Bay City said:

"There is no blame attached on either side. The fog was so dense we could not tell where we were and were going slowly."

The damage is estimated at $3000. An investigation will be made today by William Mackenzie, superintendent of ferries and railway steamers.

BLAMES LANGDON FOR RESIGNATION

Karl C. Ingram Secretary of Hoisholt, Says He Was Forced Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27. — Karl C. Ingram, Stanford University man, later associate editor of the Modesto News, still more recently private secretary to Dr. A. W. Hoisholt, superintendent of the Napa Asylum, has pronounced views relative to Governor Johnson's statement that politics would have no place in the several State commissions; that merit, efficiency and honesty would be the only points considered.

Ingram was appointed secretary to the superintendent on Monday last and on Saturday he resigned, forced out, he says, because of the pressure brought to bear through Governor Johnson. Ingram was appointed private secretary to Dr. A. W. Hoisholt, who has recently been appointed superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane at Napa. Ingram's resignation comes as the result of protests from Modesto, regarding articles written by him in the Modesto News during the last Presidential campaign.

The position is entirely non-political in character, and Ingram declares that he was advised by Dr. Hoisholt and Colonel John S. Chambers, chairman of the Napa Hospital Board, who confirmed the appointment, that the matter of politics would not be considered.

"I was charged with being a Democrat," said Ingram yesterday. "I pleaded guilty and my forced resignation was the result."

INGRAM'S LETTER.

Ingram's resignation, which he handed to Dr. Hoisholt Saturday, reads:

"Sacramento, Cal., January 25, 1913.

"Dr. A. W. Hoisholt, Stockton, Cal.

"My Dear Dr. Hoisholt: Fearing that my position as your private secretary might embarrass you to some extent, I hereby tender you my resignation, to be effective at once.

"This action is made advisable by the pressure brought to bear upon the Governor by William H. Langdon and others whose petty political activities were ridiculed in the Modesto News during the last Presidential campaign.

"I considered the secretaryship an entirely non-partisan position, and I realize that you did also. My political beliefs were unknown to you at the time you made the appointment, and neither you nor I considered them of any moment. I sincerely trust that you will suffer no inconvenience because of this affair.

"Mr. Chambers and Mr. McCabe have both assured me that neither my ability nor my integrity are involved. Had I known that there were any qualifications, other than those of capability and unimpeachable honesty, I would never have accepted.

"Your abilities are generally recognized, and I earnestly hope that you will not be embarrassed by the outcome of this incident.

"Yours very truly,
"KARL C. INGRAM."

OFFICIAL COPIES OF ELECTORAL VOTE FILED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Official copies of the electoral vote for each of the 48 States have now been filed with the President pro tempore of the Senate.

The law requires that two copies of the official electoral vote shall be sent to Washington from each State—one by mail and one by messenger—either of these copies without the other being sufficient evidence of the result. To be counted, the vote must be received in Washington not later than the last Monday in January. All mailed copies have been received while messengers from 40 States have also filed additional copies.

The vote will be officially canvassed in the House of Representatives February 12, the second Wednesday of the month. The sealed envelopes from the various States have not been opened, but there is little possibility of the result being found in any respect different from that already unofficially announced — Wilson 435, Roosevelt 88 and Taft 8.

BADLY BEATEN BY THUGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Assaulted by three thugs, who held him up and got only $1.75, John Dixon, who lives at the Pacific Hotel, South City, was left lying in a precarious condition at Iowa and Twenty-second streets early yesterday morning.

Dixon was dazed when found by Policeman E. M. Dennell. He stated that he had been held up by three men who followed him from a saloon at Kentucky and Twenty-second streets.

ISTHMUS TRAFFIC REGISTERS HEAVY

Enormous Total Reached by Commerce Between Ocean Ports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Commerce between the Atlantic and Pacific coast via the isthmuses of Panama and Tehuantepec aggregated approximately $125,000,000 in 1912, according to a statement of the department of commerce and labor. The record for the five months beginning with November shows $24,500,000 worth of merchandise passing from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast via the Tehuantepec railroad and $5,000,000 worth via the Panama railroad, while the value of that passing from the Pacific to the Atlantic was: Via Tehuantepec line, $14,333,000, and via the Panama line, $3,750,000.

This suggests that the total value of the traffic for the half-year ended December was approximately $30,000,000 west bound across the Tehuantepec route and $6,000,000 via the Panama line, and of eastbound coming from the Pacific coast ports and Hawaii, $16,000,000 via Tehuantepec and $4,500,000 via Panama, and that the total value of this traffic for the full year approximates $125,000,000.

Shipments from the Atlantic coast to foreign countries via the isthmus go chiefly via the Panama route, and include, for the six months ended with December, $1,500,000 worth to Peru, $1,000,000 to Ecuador, $666,000 to Chile and $2,000,000 worth to Central American states. The eastbound traffic from the Pacific coast to foreign countries amounted to about $4,000,000 value for the six months, the largest single movement being from San Francisco to Germany, $1,666,000 value, while that to France was about $666,000 and to England about $333,000 value.

Oakland Electric Development League Meets at Local Cafe.

The Oakland Electric Development League held its regular monthly meeting and luncheon at the Saddle Rock Saturday afternoon. This league is composed of electrical contractors, electrical supply dealers and members of electric power companies, telephone and telegraph companies.

The object is fellowship and educational purposes. The league entertained the Order of Jovians, which is a national organization on similar lines. The Jovians were represented by T. E. Bibbins of the General Electric Company, Colonel F. Carter of the Pacific States Electric Company, and A. H. Hallahan, vice-president and managing editor of the Journal of Electricity, Power and Gas.

G. B. Furniss of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company presided and J. McKee acted as secretary. H. Read, representative in this county of the fire underwriters, read a paper on "Fire Hazards." This paper disclosed the large financial losses which are entailed through improper and defective wiring conditions. General discussion followed.

MEDICAL TRUST NOT INTENDED

Wilson Tells Plans for the National Bureau of Health.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Jan. 27. — President-elect Wilson addressed yesterday a private gathering of prominent social workers at the home of Mrs. Caroline B. Alexander, where he and his family were week-end guests. In a statement given out by Mrs. Alexander setting forth Governor Wilson's remarks, he is quoted as declaring that in forwarding the movement for a national bureau of health it was desired to remove the impression that the Government expected to set up "a medical trust." The Governor is reported as having said that there was no intention to put any school of medicine in charge of national health projects, but that all schools of medicine should work in harmony on the question of sanitation, which he considered most important.

The statement given out at the Alexander home quotes the President-elect as saying:

"Already in dealing with medical education in New Jersey we have had political difficulties because of the various independent schools of medicine that have sprung up on all sides. There is a fear in many minds that we are about to set up what has been called a medical trust, and it is very desirable to remove that idea. I have never seen any serious proposal to put any particular school of medicine in charge of the national health.

A. J. McKelway, secretary for the Southern States of the national child labor committee and chairman of the juvenile advisory committee of the Children's Council at Washington, D. C., while speaking on "Washington as a Model City," criticised the system of government of the District of Columbia as controlled by men "with connections in speculative real estate."

In commenting on this, Governor Wilson is reported as saying:

"Dr. McKelway excited me because he put under my nose a fresh trail, and a kind of trail that I always follow with zest."

"MIKE" FITZGERALD, MARINE REPORTER, DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—"Mike" Fitzgerald, who for nearly half a century was marine reporter for the Merchants' Exchange, died from heart trouble at his home, 1016 Greenwich street, at 10 o'clock last night, after an illness of three months.

The name of Fitzgerald is known to practically every sea captain in the world. For over 40 years he has been stationed at Meigg's wharf, and most of that time, when not dodging spray in a Whitehall boat, divided his time between duty and making friends, of whom he had legion.

Fitzgerald was 54 years old. Born in Ireland, he came to San Francisco when a boy, and the first job he secured was driving the cart that carried shipping news from Meigg's wharf to the Merchants' Exchange. Later he acted as runner for local tradesmen, going out 20 and 30 miles below the Farallones in a Whitehall boat to take orders for butchers, bakers and grocers.

Besides Mrs. Fitzgerald, six children—five boys and one girl—survive the deceased.

COLUMBIA SHOW DRAWS THRONGS

"S. R. O." Sign Hung Out for "The Suffragettes," at Popular House.

The S. R. O. sign so familiar to Columbia patrons stood for something far more significant at the evening performances yesterday. S. R. O. in this instance stood for "Solid Right Out," decidedly and emphatically. The house attache who broke through the mob that clamored for admittance into the popular laugh shop and hung that sign in a conspicuous place deserves a medal.

Perhaps the title of the skit was the magnet that drew the throngs, or the delightful weather may have been partially responsible. Any way Oakland was there to enjoy a positive musical comedy triumph—"The Suffragettes."

In keeping with the current events of the day Dillon and King have penned a comedy dealing with the humorous side of the suffrage question. The serious side we see every day—yet there is frequently a hearty laugh tucked under the sugar-coated female vote.

The plot reveals the amusing conditions existing in a town under suffrage government. With one exception, from the mayor down to poundmaster, the official positions are filled by the gentler sex. The exception is Tom Candy, a much-abused villager, who is endeavoring to hold seven jobs at once. Becoming tired of petticoat rule, he brings in a dark horse to run against the incumbent mayor. Ike is the contender and Mike his able assistant. What happens to Bellville when the Hebrew and his Irish partner take office is described by the following players: Ben T. Dillon, Will King, Maud Beatty, Charlie Reilly, Vilma Stech, Ernest Van Pelt, Mattie Townsend and the Ginger Girls.

IS GOOD MUSICALLY.

Musically speaking "The Suffragettes" ranks with any of its predecessors. The opening number is made most effective by an argument engaged in by Miss Beatty and the house manager on the merits of the suffrage question. Vilma Stech, "the wearer of clothes beautiful," was the hit of the number entitled "Rosebud." She was responsible for the generous applause accorded the selection. Charlie Reilly, assisted by the Carson Four, rendered the ever popular stein song, "Old Heidelberg," most effectively. The individuality of the singer had much to do with the success of Marjory Shaw's entertaining song, "Whistling Jim." A selected duet by Mattie Townsend, "Careless Chorus Maidens," sung by the Ginger Girls, and "When You Hear That Steamboat Whistle," rendered by Clarence Wurdig, were other song hits that demand special mention.

The skit is superbly staged and elegantly costumed. "The Suffragettes" will continue for the week and will be followed by "The Bumble Bee."

8-HOUR DAY FOR CHILDREN URGED

Change in Present Law Advocated by Probation Officer.

Fixing an eight-hour day for children under eighteen who work, preventing children under twelve from selling gum, matches, papers, etc., on the streets, and making the child labor law more elastic and reasonable for children between twelve and fifteen, were changes in the present child-labor law advocated yesterday by Probation Officer Christopher Ruess, in an address in recognition of Child Labor Sunday, before the Religious Study Class of the Unitarian church.

"The law does not and will not prohibit the employment of children of any age of school hours in reasonable chores or work of a domestic or agricultural character, by which spending money may be earned. But it should absolutely prohibit mere infants and children under twelve from begging under the pretense of selling on the city streets, which are not the proper place for the moral education of a child of that age," said the probation officer.

"The present law is absurd as to children twelve to fifteen in some instances. The child who is a graduate of the eighth grade, over twelve and under fifteen, should be allowed to work at a suitable occupation, if desired, and to do so legally, without any official conniving in the violation of law. Moreover, the child ordered out of school for eye trouble, or nervous trouble, or illness, but by its physician deemed better off for suitable physical labor, would be permitted to work.

"To prevent an abuse of the law, which might come by making it more reasonable, all permits should be subject to revocation by the state labor commissioner, when they appear to have been recklessly issued. As child labor laws are a correlative of compulsory education laws, all permits should be issued by the school attendance officers, and should be taken out of, the hands of the probation officers and the judges of the Juvenile Court where they do not belong."

A bill along these lines has been prepared after months of study by the Social Workers Club of Central California, and is in the hands of Mrs. C. M. Weyman, secretary of the Juvenile Protective Association of San Francisco, for presentation at the present legislature.

Pimples Source of Great Danger

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

The research laboratory of The Swift Specific Co. has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may not be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, bronchitis and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

MARIN COUNTY IS HOME OF CUPID

Ahead of All Others in Marriage Licenses Issued.

SACRAMENTO, Jan 27—While Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties rank first, second and third in the number of marriages in 1912, Marin county, the Gretna Green for San Francisco couples, not only ranks fourth, away out of proportion to its population, but also scores the highest rate of increase as compared with 1911

Orange county, the rallying point for Los Angeles folk on matrimony bent, ranks fifth in number of marriages, and has the third highest rate of increase. The first nine counties from the standpoint of marriages in 1912, with the percent of increase for 1911, are given by Statistician Leslie of the state board of health as follows

SURF BATHERS ARE PANTAGES FEATURE

Elizabeth Mayne, Conqueror of Masher, Star of Musical Sketch.

Still suffering from nervousness after playing a new role in the capture of a San Francisco "masher," Elizabeth Mayne appeared yesterday at the Pantages as the leading spirit, or sprite, of Ned Wayburn's "Surf Bathers"

Miss Mayne has required medical attendance on account of shattered nerves since her adventure across the bay, which she says will remain a "vivid memory for a long time" But she, with her baggage, was ready for her entrance as a traveling girl in the railroad scene in the "Surf Bathers" when the musical tabloid opened here yesterday. Without the least idea of knocking, Miss Mayne volunteered, after the show, that she hoped to find Oakland a sure cure for nervousness

"I am still receiving mash notes, she admitted, displaying a dainty handful. "They're the cute kind, though"

Then the tiny star confirmed some of the things the press agent has been disclosing about her—that a few years ago she was singing in a church choir in Philadelphia, where her father is a composer of sacred music; that she helps him try out his songs, and that she is but a trifle over four feet in height.

To this she added that she has twice before visited Oakland, playing in "The Girl in the Taxi" and over the Sullivan and Considine circuit, that there was an "awful disturbance" among her relatives when she adopted stage life, and that she herself rebelled, ineffectually, over the wearing of tights

Another revelation is for the Oakland candidates for domesticity. Miss Mayne has one ambition greater than the desire to play emotional parts, and that is to snap her fingers at the stage, making her final exit to the music of wedding bells How is that for an echo of peaceful Philadelphia?

Miss Mayne's associates in the surf playlet are George Ebner, a pleasing sort of comedian with a sideline of imitations, and eight "English daisies," the kind that bloom in the waves and are required to sing but little DOGS THAT POSE.

Three dogs, beautiful white pointers that pose with Ted Bailey, dressed in a white hunter's costume, are winning many admirers in the Pantages audiences. One of the canine troupe, Queen, died recently in Portland, and sincere grief was shown by Ted and King for many days Something of this sorrow is shown in one of the most impressive poses—two of the dogs in a mourning attitude beside the third, which is feigning death

Killian and Moore also claimed a lot of friends at yesterday's shows, with their songs and sayings

Juno Salmo, an Oakland boy, who has been featured at the Winter Garden in Berlin, does some devilish things, impersonating Satan and twisting himself into uncanny shapes His contortions are performed on a high pole and on a swinging trapeze

Jack Wells and Ted Henry, "The Two Pals," have a way about them in wearing evening clothes without appearing to chafe and in singing their original songs Sherburne and Montgomery appear in a comedy playlet, "Colleagues," guaranteed to produce several laughs a minute, and Libonati hammers difficult compositions and popular medlies from the xylophone Gaumont's weekly motion picture, as usual, serves to instruct and entertain.

TEN BITTEN BY MAD DOG IN JERSEY CITY

JERSEY CITY, N J, Jan 27—Ten persons are suffering today from dog bites here and worry lest serious trouble result. The cry of "mad dog" was raised as a yellow mongrel, snapping at every one it saw, tore through a crowd of women and children on their way to Sunday school yesterday The animal was chased for three miles before a policeman succeeded in shooting it

In the meantime one woman and nine children had been bitten so badly that they required treatment in physicians' offices and hospitals The dog's head was sent to New York today for examination.

OAKLAND GIRL, NOW OPERA STAR, WILL RETURN HOME SHORTLY

MISS MABEL RIEGELMAN, AN OAKLAND GIRL, WHO HAS RISEN TO GRAND OPERA STARDOM.

Mabel Reigelman, now an opera star, is soon to return to her home in Oakland.

The leap to operatic stardom in one night is the remarkable transition of the Oakland girl, the story of which has just come to this city from Chicago

The girl is Mabel Reigelman, and if anybody should ask her how it all happened, she would answer, "Ask my mother. I don't know myself."

And her white-haired mother told of the girl's career from the time when she first started to study singing to the day when Mme. Gadski on her visit to San Francisco prophesied that some day little Miss Mabel would be a prima donna, and up to the memorable day in her career when Herr Andreas Dippel informed her that she would have to play the leading role in "Mignon," Ambroise Thomas' masterpiece, that night

Maggie Teyte of operatic fame was billed to sing Mignon that night and the advance sales were heavy. At luncheon Dippel was informed that his prima donna was indisposed and could not appear

He was in despair What could he do? No Maggie Teyte, no Mignon. Nobody knew the part and nobody could learn it so quickly

And then somebody suggested Mabel Riegelman She had a fine voice, was ambitious and had given a good account of herself

Dippel rushed to the telephone.

"Miss Riegelman I want you to sing Mignon tonight."

"But, Herr Dippel, I do not know a line of the role"

'Learn it, then," Dippel snapped, and Miss Riegelman did

In the evening, before a crowded house, she sang Mignon; she brought down the audience, wild applause greeted her, and a new star had been created.

In a box her white-haired mother sat When she was seen after the performance she had tears in her eyes, tears of surprise and of joy, and her "little one" was bewildered. She had just gained an understanding of what she could do.

Mabel Riegelman is soon to return to California, where she will be greeted and feted by men and women of her native state, who are proud that another Californian has reached the top of the ladder of fame

SPACE IS NEEDED FOR PARCEL POST

Plans of Many Public Buildings in United States Must be Changed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—To provide adequate space for handling parcel post business it will be necessary to revise the plans of many public buildings in which post offices are located and negotiations to this end already have been instituted by Postmaster General Hitchcock. The postmaster general invited yesterday the supervising architect of the treasury and his assistants to co-operate in the matter with building committees of the post office department and the special parcel post committee.

At present 174 public buildings are under contract and appropriations for 233 additional have been made by congress. They approximate in cost $50,000,000. The plans for the buildings have been prepared without regard for the needs of the parcels post system and it is now essential that changes be made in their construction in order that the increased volume of mail may be handled.

In 759 post offices located in government buildings it will be necessary to make alterations to meet the requirements of the parcels post In some cases the purchase of additional ground on which to construct annexes must be made.

COLLEGE MEN REPLACE SINGERS ON STRIKE

TRENTON, N. J, Jan. 27.—Eighteen Princton students took the places of forty-five members of the church choir, who are out on strike at St. Michael's church. The strikers did such effective picket duty, however, that the church, usually well filled at service, contained many empty seats at both morning and evening services. The Princeton boys did very well as supplanters of the regular choir, and they semed to enter into the work with a determined spirit.

LAWYERS ARGUE ON PRACTICE LAW

Many Believe Judges Should do Private Work While in Office.

A veritable storm of legal comment about the law has followed the proposal of the Jefferson club that police judges and deputy district attorneys shall be barred from private law practice

While the proponents of the proposed reform have the support of many lawyers, others declare the measure would be unjust Police Judge Samuels declares that if the salaries were adequate, the plan might be successful

John J McDonald, attorney and a leader of the Democratic fold and member of the Jefferson club is opposed to the measure Robert Fitzgerald another member of the club refuses to give his support to it until he is convinced that there is any necessity for it Assistant City Attorney Charles Beardsley admits that the objects of the proposed bill are laudable but thinks the ends may be obtained more satisfactorily by electing the right kind of men to office instead of altering the existing laws

"I do not know," says Beardsley, "that there has been any abuse of power or misuse of time on the part of the police judges of Alameda county but if there has been the evil might easily be remedied without changing the laws The right kind of men would not be criticised in this way The salaries that the city pays for services of this kind is not enough to induce men of the right kind to give all their time to such work to the exclusion of private practice The police judges and the deputy district attorneys do not, so far as I have learned neglect their work but they should not be asked to devote all of their time to these duties at the salaries that are now paid'

"If the salary is commensurate with the needs and importance of the office, I should favor the measure" says Judge Samuels "At $3000 per year, the salary paid the Oakland police judges no one can expect a man capable of properly filling such a position to devote all of his time and abandon all private practice There is enough work to keep two police judges busy"

Berlin Specialist to Bring Tuberculosis Serum to America.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. — Charles E. Finlay, president of the Aetna National bank, who offered last week to pay $1,000,000 to Dr F F Friedmann of Berlin if he would bring or send his supposed cure for tuberculosis to this country and have it proved effective said yesterday that he now knew that Dr Friedmann would surely bring his culture here in person and that he would sail for the United States within a couple of weeks

"I have insisted upon his coming," said Finlay at his home at Great Neck yesterday "His brother, who is here in New York, has received a cable from him telling that he is ready to start for New York and will sail within a week or two He is coming here to prove his assertions that he has at last found a tuberculosis cure and if he should fail, why there is nothing lost."

Finlay expects to hear within two or three days of the definite plans of Dr Friedmann He is glad that the Berlin specialist has accepted his offer. Finlay does not look upon the payment of $1,000,000 in the event that the remedy is a cure as men of the medical profession here in this country do. He says he has offered it more as a reward and to make it certain that Americans get the benefit of the cure

He intends to make the culture public if it is a success and to found hospitals within and without New York where it may be administered

"My purpose in getting Dr. Friedmann to come over here is to allow him a fair and impartial trial," said Finlay "I understand that he has been treated rather badly on the other side, and is almost without the fold American doctors, even if they think his actions are unethical, will give him a square deal. Dr. Lawarson Brown of Saranac will probably conduct the tests, and he will be aided by such men as the New York medical profession shall choose to assist him"

RAPID WIRELESS SET WILL BE INSTALLED

PALO ALTO, Jan 27—Lee de Forest, research engineer for the Federal Wireless Telegraph Company, with headquarters in Palo Alto has returned from the East, where he completed arrangements for installing a more rapid system of receiving wireless messages on the Pacific Coast.

The new instrument will record a hundred words a minute, which is four times as fast as the present method of recording by hand.

The apparatus is being set up in the laboratory of the company at 912 Emerson street. It will be in operation within a few weeks, and if the trials prove successful the new method of receiving messages will be put in operation immediately between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Oakland's New Tributary Trading Territory

According to public announcement the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern electric railway will be in operation between Oakland and Sacramento in July. The line opens new territory which is geographically tributary to Oakland where its bay shore terminal is located. The fertile Moraga and San Ramon valleys, comprising the most productive lands in Contra Costa county, are traversed by it. These valleys have been hitherto practically inaccessible and, owing to the lack of rail communication, have been as backward in settlement and development as the remoter and most neglected sections of the state. While capable of supporting a large agricultural population, they have remained up to the present time sparsely settled and of minor interest from an agricultural standpoint, being devoted chiefly to the raising of cattle and other farm products which could be transported on the hoof or otherwise cheaply to market. Natural conditions have developed in them small rural communities whose environments have not been conducive to the awakening of that progressive spirit which is characteristic of modern times.

Moreover, large areas of the most fertile sections of these secluded valleys have been held in private ownership and their status and uses retained, in a very broad sense, to what they were when the Spanish grants were issued before the American occupation of California. In fact, the Moraga and San Ramon valleys comprise almost if not quite the last section of California to witness the extinguishment of the Spanish grant condition and submit to modern development. Now that they are about to be tapped by a modern electric railway system, giving a direct outlet to the seaboard and a short-cut connection with the most densely populated territory in the state, it is reasonable to expect that a marvelous change will follow.

Oakland being the bay-shore terminus of the new line, it should logically be likewise the greater gainer, in a commercial sense, from the developments which are sure to follow the opening of the road to traffic. The coming event is certainly a golden opportunity to Oakland merchants. They have the first, the quickest, the surest and the most economical call on the trade. Presumptively they are not blind to the opportunity. They possess an advantage over all competitors to secure permanently the valuable trade which the opening up of the rich interior valleys of Contra Costa will create through the dismemberment of the old Spanish grants and their subdivision into small tracts occupied and intensively cultivated, as they will be, by a progressive and enterprising class of rural and suburban home-makers.

We are evidently on the eve of an era in suburban development in Contra Costa county which will be a duplicate of that which has occurred in the rich valleys tributary to Los Angeles and contributed so much to the wealth and prosperity of that city. There is no danger of anyone being too optimistic on that score, for the valleys lying east of the range pierced by the new electric railway have many advantages, climatic and otherwise, for permanent settlement and suburban home-building which the territory tributary to Los Angeles does not possess.

The opening of the new railway to Sacramento will also make available to commercial exploitation by Oakland merchants a vast amount of new territory in the lower Sacramento valley which has heretofore been unavailable owing to the absence of rapid transit facilities. The natural channel for the trade of this territory leads directly to this city, and if time is taken by the forelock and the right promotion methods are employed Oakland will secure it, as it undoubtedly should.

Striking a Blow at Gold Dredging.

If the bill introduced by Senator Kehoe of Humboldt county to place the industry of dredging for gold in California under the control of a Water Commission, which the State Legislature proposes to create, is intended to suppress the industry by prohibitive provisions, it may be classed at the outstart as one of those vicious measures which crop up in every legislative session against certain special commercial and industrial interests contributing material benefits to the state at large and which are inspired by questionable motives, and as such it should be permitted to die on the files. Such measures are usually killed in the early stages of legislative procedure. Once in a while, however, one slips through and the antagonisms excited thereby give endless and costly trouble to those most directly concerned. Legislative correspondents intimate very plainly that the purpose of the Kehoe bill is to prohibit gold-dredging in California.

During the past ten or twelve years dredging for gold in this state has developed into a great mining industry. It contributes at least one-fourth of the state's gold output. Last year California stood at the head of the list of gold-producing states and territories on the continent with an output of approximately $20,000,000 in virgin gold. The gold recovered by dredging in the auriferous streams was obtained from a source inaccessible to any other method of mining and with the least offense to any industry antagonized by mining operations in any form.

That the Kehoe bill is aimed at the dredging operations conducted on the lower reaches of the Feather, Yuba and American rivers is not concealed. Millions of dollars have been invested in the plants at work on these streams. Gold-bearing land lining their banks have been bought outright by the dredging companies. The title is vested in them in fee simple. Dredging operations in the streams and their banks and the deposit of the resultant debris are under the control of the California Debris Commission, a joint state and federal organization. The dredging companies' operations are conducted under strict regulations which protect the interests of the farmers in the valleys and also the navigation of the streams. Whenever and wherever either has been menaced the dredging companies have been required to reform their methods and have promptly conformed with the commission's instructions.

It is admitted by the most competent authorities that dredging for gold on the Feather and Yuba rivers has been an aid to their navigation and also to that of the Sacramento river. The charge that the industry is a menace to navigation and to the floor lands of the central valley from floods, which applied effectively to hydraulic mining through the choking of the beds of the streams with debris, is, therefore, untenable.

It was charged in the early history of gold dredging on the Feather river that valuable agricultural land was being destroyed and the agricultural interests of future generations were being sacrificed through the dredging of tracts along the banks previously devoted to fruit growing in the neighborhood of Biggs and leaving in the wake of the dredging machines barren banks of cobble stones. This objection has been overcome, partially at least, by the dredging companies themselves, through the erection of mammoth stone crushers and the profitable conversion of the cobble stone heaps into material of commercial value for road macadam and concrete construction. And the land thus cleared of the cobbles and reduced to a common level has been restored by the dredging companies to agricultural uses by the planting of fruit-bearing trees thereon. The experiments made show that the trees thrive luxuriantly in the new soil in which they are rooted.

It ought to be plain, therefore, to every intelligent and disinterested citizen that dredging for gold is not, in any sense, an industry destructive to the agricultural interests of the state, for, from the benches turned over by it to win the gold in the gravel deposits underlying them is produced directly in the wake of the dredging operations a valuable commercial asset and, following its utilization, the property is left as available as it was originally for agricultural uses. The land being, moreover, owned in fee by the dredging corporations, it is not clear what jurisdiction the state can exercise over it. Any legislation which proposes to prohibit dredging private property and the beds of a stream bordering on it and thereby improving its navigability, must manifestly be intrusive and objectionable and an unwarranted encroachment on property rights.

Is It to Be Up or Down for Women?

Mr. V. S. McClatchy of the Sacramento Bee leaves us in doubt whether he desires to abate the social evil by bringing women down to a level with men or dragging men up to a level with women. His single standard of morality for both sexes implies that one sex shall ascend or the other sex descend. It perhaps never occurred to him that the lower standard for men is due to the fact that man is the master animal, and that it is useless to expect too much of him. Three Scotchmen were returning home after a night of revelry. They had partaken deeply of Highland whisky and their steps were unsteady and their course erratic. One of them stumbled and fell. After several ineffectual efforts to rise he called to one of his companions:

"Jock, come back an' gie me a hand; I'm down, man, an' canna' get up."

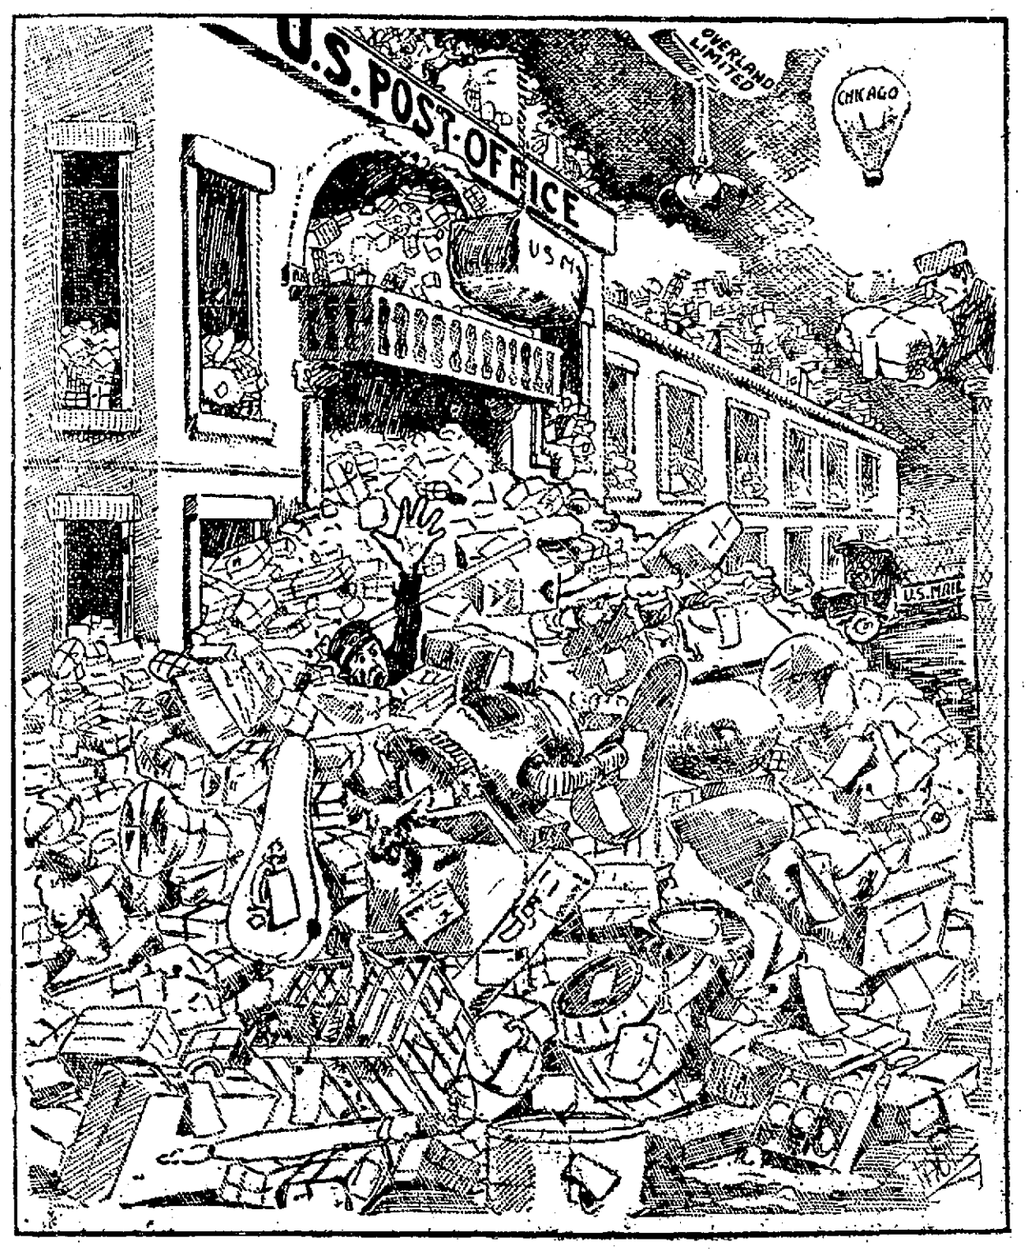

Jock cautiously and wearily returned and essayed several times to lift his friend to his feet. But each time he had to let go to keep from falling himself. Finally he said:

"Sandy, mon, I canna' lift ye up, but I'll no desert ye; I'll lie down wi' ye." And he did.

Does Mr. McClatchy propose to elevate the race by having women lie down in the gutter with men who are too besotted to get up themselves? That is about what his single standard proposition amounts to. For further information we refer the reader to the story of Judah and Tamar in the Old Testament. For the moral, read the story of the Magdalen in the New Testament.

Illustrating the genial character of midwinter in Oakland and its environs it is only necessary to announce the fact that the Oakland Chamber of Commerce has on exhibition a collection of seventy different species of wild flowers picked during the last forty-eight hours in the canyons and on the slopes of the foothills within its borders. This collection is silent but eloquent evidence of how little effect the frost wave which swept over the Pacific coast in the earlier part of the month, and did so much damage in the Southern California citrus belt, had on tender plant life in this section of the state. It may be added, further, that throughout the month nearly if not quite one hundred tender vines, plants and shrubs, most of which in other parts of the country are classed as winter hothouse plants, have been blooming luxuriantly in Oakland gardens and in its public parks without any artificial protection. These are facts which prove conclusively to the impartial mind the ideal nature of Oakland's climate.

However, the chap who rocks the boat in the sea of matrimony is apt to land in the divorce court.

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO BEAUTY

Woman's beauty, by ancient tradition and general practice, is considered as her inalienable right. A woman who fails to care for her charms is more to be pitied than censured—for she is the chief loser after all.

Occasionally there arise captious critics who would take the "fair ones" to task for their devotion to this particular shrine. Probably not all these martinets are ill-favored—but the observer would be pardoned if, off-hand, he were to pass such a hasty judgment. It is hardly conceivable that a pretty woman would voice such a heresy.

Evidently the Rev. John Thompson of Chicago has been reading the screeds of some of these dissenters, for in a recent address he cried aloud the right of woman to preserve her facial attractiveness. "It is just as honorable," he declared, "to care for the body as it is to care for the mind."

This is the right sort of talk. It squares to the winds of censure and leaves no doubt of the best of the clerical mind. It demonstrates that he is both a keen observer and a just judge. He makes his views even more plain when he adds:

"A great authority has said three-fourths of all the beauty there is in the world is possessed by women. The highest creation of God is the face of a good woman. If women take pains to keep their beauty, they are not to be blamed, not even if it costs money as well as effort."

There certainly is no fairer spectacle in the world than the face of a sweet and lovely woman, lighted with the glory of a kindly disposition. More than one man who would "go to the demnition bow-wows" has been saved from himself by the uplifting influence of such a woman.

She is the brightest spot in all the world. As mother, daughter or sister—she lights the pathway of life for both sexes. She links the direct, more brutal ambitions of man with that other and better self in him which aspires to nobler things.

Blame her for cherishing her beauty? As well criticise the butterfly for fluttering in the eye of the sun—the peacock for spreading its wonder feathers to the breeze—or the rose for expanding its scented petals to the dewy morn!

Whether beautiful by art or nature, it matters not. Howsoever achieved, she makes the whole world brighter and happier by husbanding the attractiveness that is hers by birth or which she achieves by wise and careful effort.—Seattle Times.

"Well, what now?" he muttered.

HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, TAKE DELICIOUS 'SYRUP OF FIGS'

Removes the Scum From the Tongue, Sweetens a Sour, Gassy, Bilious Stomach; Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels Without Gripe or Nausea.

If headachy, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folks believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartic pills. They shrink from the after effects—so they postpone the dose until they get sick, then they do this liver and bowel cleansing in a heroic way—they have a bowel wash day. That is all wrong. If you will take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight, you will never realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the poisonous matter, sour bile and clogged-up waste will be moved on and out of your system, thoroughly but gently—no griping—no nausea—no weakness. Taking Syrup of Figs is a real pleasure. Don't think you are drugging yourself; it is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, and constant use can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company, on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other Fig Syrup offered as good should be refused with contempt. Don't be imposed upon. —Advertisement.

The Mogul trucks are built along unusually strong lines, being among the heaviest and strongest of the large type of commercial vehicles featured this season.

A complete line of body designs is part of the Mogul equipment, the factory including special equipment for carrying any kind of freight or merchandise

"The Mogul is one of the best known motor trucks on the Eastern market," said B W Hammond, manager of the Standard Motor Car Company in Oakland, "and as the machines are reported to be unusually strong, they should prove popular in this city The test on motor trucks in actual service in San Francisco is very great, and the stronger the truck, the better result it will give here. We have anticipated a big demand for these machines in this territory, and will arrange to distribute them throughout the State

"The demand for motor trucks is growing steadily, and it will not be long until their sale will be one of the biggest factors in the automobile industry. The local market is due for a big boost in the sale of commercial vehicles.

"The 'one-piece' frames on the new Mogul trucks, which the Standard Motor Car Company is now handling, are causing considerable comment, because of their strength and the fact that the two-side members and the front member are bent out of a single length.

"Mr. Haase, the factory representative now here on the coast, relates an amusing circumstance in this connection. He says:

"'When our engineers decided that the "one-piece" frame was the most desirable form of construction, they realized that it was no easy task to bend a heavy seven-inch channel section into a V shape, but set out to find a plant which was equipped to perform this job A man was sent East, and after a month's investigation, returned to Chicago unable to locate a plant which could handle it. As the matter was about to be given up as impossible, it occurred suddenly to the mind of one that the American Bridge Company on the adjoining premises were doing just such work in the bending of tunnel ribs—and so, probably the only plant in the country which could perform the work was located "next door"'"

Nature's Remedies for Disease

Every Fall in olden times the family medicine chest was replenished with roots, herbs and barks, nature's remedies for disease. Scullcap for nervousness, Pennyroyal for colds, Clover Blossoms for the blood, Thoroughwort for colds, Wormwood and Balm of Gilead Buds for sprains, and so on. It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills the world has ever known had its origin nearly forty years ago from roots and herbs and Lydia E. CONGRESSMAN DIES PLANNING SPEECH

Sylvester Smith, Editor and Statesman Passes Away.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—Congressman Sylvester Clark Smith of the Eighth District of California, died here this morning Heart failure, brought on by the excitement of planning a speech as he lay ill in bed, on the regulation of the liquor traffic in Bakersfield, his home town, was the immediate cause of his death.

While the end was sudden, Congressman Smith had been in failing health for the past two years, and was forced, during that time, to do much of his official business from his bedside

In December, 1911, he got out of bed to attend the second session of the Sixty-second Congress, and to the fact that he doggedly endeavored to discharge the duties of his office, in spite of a weak heart, and against the advice of his family, friends and physicians, is attributed his early death

Congressman Smith was elected to the Fifty-ninth Congress, and had filled four terms. He was unable, on account of his health, to attend the present Congress.

During his terms in the House he served on many important committees, among them being Education, Interoceanic Canals, Labor, Pacific Railways, Postoffices and Post Roads and Public Lands.

Services over the late congressman will be held tomorrow afternoon, after which the body will be taken to Bakersfield for interment Services will be held in that city Saturday or Sunday, the time depending upon the arrival of his daughter, Mrs. E. S. Larsen, of Washington, D. C. The other daughter, Mrs. A. W. Mason of Bakersfield, and Mrs. Smith, were at the congressman's bedside when the end came.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. Congress will adjourn today as a mark of respect to the memory of Congressman S. C. Smith, the news of whose death caused general sorrow among his former colleagues.

FOR A GOOD DIGESTION

A Local Druggist's Suggestion.

It has been said the body is like a machine and digestion and elimination of food are the two great factors to health.

If the digestive organs are weak, the stomach overtaxed, waste matter accumulates in the system—the liver gets sluggish and the blood becomes thin and devitalized.

We want to ask every person in this vicinity who is troubled with indigestion or a weak worn-out stomach to try our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We know it will strengthen and tone up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs, create a hearty appetite, and replace weakness with strength.

We just heard of a case of a man in Oneonta, N. Y., who suffered from a bad stomach trouble for fifteen years and had become so weak he could hardly walk—who was cured by Vinol.

Try a bottle of Vinol and if it fails to help you we will give back your money.

HEART TRIBUNE'S PAGE for WOMEN HOME

Society

THIS week is to be crowded with important social events, for society is determined to amuse itself before putting on the figurative sackcloth and ashes of Lent. "Le roi s'amuse," and why not society also? Of course, Lent will not put a stop to all the merrymaking, but the small and quiet affairs will be almost the only ones indulged in by the really smart during the forty days of penitence. To make up for that a number of brilliant affairs will mark the social calendar with red letter days before February 5, which is the beginning of the Lenten season this year.

Among the notable affairs of the coming week will be Mrs. Henry Dieckmann's two bridge parties for the afternoons of Tuesday and Wednesday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Robert Knight of Los Gatos, who is visiting her; Mrs. Charles Butters' dinner Tuesday night for Major and Mrs. Sidney Cloman; Mrs. Frank Proctor's small card party on Wednesday; Miss Helen Dabney's bridge Thursday afternoon for Miss Etha Musser; Mrs. Percival Walker's card parties at the Hotel Oakland Friday and Saturday afternoons; Mrs. Frank Havens' brilliant reception for Mrs. Harold Havens on Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. Wickham Havens' dance Saturday night.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

THREE INCHES IS THE DEAD LINE

Fair Co-Eds Must Not be Hugged at First Dance.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Jan 27.—That the "Bunny Hug" and "Turkey Trot" may not corner the dance mart at the senior ball at Wellesley next Friday the faculty has evolved a set of regulations pertaining to the conduct of the dance, one of which automatically disposes of "trots."

"No girl shall allow any young man to hold her closer than three inches," one of the rules reads, and thus the deadline is established for the effervescent youth and maiden who cannot make their dancing treads behave.

They never had a man dance at Wellesley before, and the faculty is much stirred at the appearance of hawks among the chickens. Under no circumstances is a young man to pass his arm about a girl's waist in such fashion that he could give her a surreptitious squeeze. Cozy corners have been abolished and chaperons of dragon-like propensities will flit about occasionally.

One privilege is allowed a lady's escort. He may see her to her dormitory after the ball, but girls, boys and chaperons must ride there in barges provided for the occasion.

Boston Waitresses

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—"And some pork and beans."

"Ah, yes. The esculent legume, vicia vulgaris, combined in dietetic proportion with the flesh of the ungulate, non-ruminative quadruped, sus domestica. I comprehend, quite. Have the goodness to wait while I apprise the culinary department of your desire."

Such conversation may be expected daily in the dining-room of a Pasadena hotel. The proprietor has installed forty-one women from Boston as waitresses, with full permission to carry as much Copley Square idiom into the dining-room as their fancy dictates. He says Bostonese make the best waitresses, but the only trouble with them is that they get married too fast, and he has to back to the Back Bay for more.

Many Good Wishes

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard attended service yesterday morning in Irvington Presbyterian church and heard Rev. Daniel Russell, D. D., who married them, preach the sermon. After the service the congregation gathered around Mr. and Mrs. Shepard and showered them with good wishes. It was the first opportunity the people of the church had of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Shepard, none of them having been invited to the wedding.

A social half hour was enjoyed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Shepard returned to Lyndhurst. They walked to and from the church. Mrs. Shepard wore a dark-blue broadcloth suit, with a small hat to match.

Agent for Cupid

BOSTON, Jan. 27.—John B. Rafferty of Brockton has set himself up as cupid's business agent, and he is very busy finding wives for farmers and ranchers and husbands for the army of widows and girls living in the vicinity of his home and working in shoe factories.

When he began business his original intention was to have an employment office, but he soon received applications for housekeepers from farmers, who stated that they entertained hopes of matrimony. "Dan Cupid" Rafferty obtained such a fine woman for the first farmer applicant that he married her quickly, and Rafferty's fame spread soon. He was deluged with applications from farmers for wives. He filled his orders, and later received a committee from Oklahoma seeking wives for ranchers.

Rafferty procured wives for the Westerners, and now he has scores of orders for both husbands and wives. All "old maids" left in the vicinity of Brockton have "spruced up," and Rafferty expects to many off the last of them before spring.

"The secret of my success," explains Rafferty, "is the secrecy which I maintain. I never betray my clients, and they are all spared publicity."

Kills Spouse in Duel

MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—Mme. Nadia Putokin killed her husband yesterday in a duel with rapiers to which she had formally challenged him. The Putokins were both professors of fencing, and their rooms were crowded every day with fashionable people. One of these was an army officer who aroused the jealousy of M. Putokin. The jealousy of the husband led the officer to issue a challenge, but Madame Putokin, declaring that her honor had been insulted, sent seconds to her husband and insisted that he should fight her first.

In the actual duel Nadia made a vigorous attack. The husband contented himself with parrying her thrusts, but in the third bout his wife's rapier pierced his heart and killed him instantly.

Eva Did Care

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Eva Tanguay, who in this case apparently does care, had William J. Trahey, a shipwright of Brooklyn, arrested yesterday. The actress says that Trahey is the author of several letters threatening her.

She says that a year ago he wrote her telling her that she was a child of the sun, and that for a price he could give her an astrologer's reading. She sent him a dollar, and, according to her story, Trahey sent back word that the stars had told him that she was to be his bride. She corresponded off and on, until one day she got a letter from a woman in the South which advised her to leave "Willy" alone.

She didn't write any more to Trahey, she says, but he kept on writing to her, and last week she got a letter advising her to pay T. her the $300 the writer said she owed him. Then says the actress, she turned the letters over to her lawyer, who had the shipwright arrested. Trahey was arraigned this morning.

How to Breathe Correctly

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell.

IT is a source of great happiness to me to assist in the restoration to health and vigor of a large number of overworked, overfed and over-doctored people by giving them the correct rules of healthful breathing. Many who were once dyspeptic owe their health to correct breathing. Many a weak-lunged, narrow-chested girl has escaped tuberculosis by the development of the chest muscles and extension of the breathing capacity. Many painful and incipient cases of kidney diseases have been checked and possibly cured by the deep breathing exercise which expands the muscles and tendons and gives strength to every nerve in the human body. Like the fuel put into the firebox of an engine to produce steam, you must turn on the drafts or it will not burn. Your breath is the draft; turn it on in full force, burn your fuel, raise your steam and the wheels will begin to turn. Learn to draw a full, deep breath instead of the little catchy breaths you have been taking by lifting the chest and shoulders, in that way only filling the apex of the lungs without expanding the more vital portion at the base. Eat what you like and abundantly, then turn on the drafts of correct breathing, thus furnishing with inhalation the oxygen so purifying to the blood, while the vigorous diaphragmatic expansion and contraction act like a churn on the inactive stomach and liver, compelling them to perform their offices. After six weeks of vigorous practicing of the breathing and physical exercises and acquiring a correct carriage and posture you will begin to gain. It is a positive cure from serious illness to know how to live and breathe correctly.

Enough has been said of the want of fresh air and sunshine in women's lives to last the century for all the heed the sex give to it. If women will live fifteen hours a day in apartments where the sun seldom enters and take their only out of door recreation shopping in over-heated stores, the skin will become anemic, lose its functions and grow pallid, dead and full of wrinkles, which form most in dull flesh. If they would only be sure to sit in sunny windows and keep the rooms well-aired the dial would turn back at least ten years out of forty. I hope that they will reach this wisdom in this generation, but most women task themselves too hard to keep young. Many women at 28 have three or four children, go into society, attend dinners, luncheons, dancing parties, keep house and sit up nights with sick children. Yet they wonder why they tire quickly at dances, look badly wrinkled and faded.

Men say that women will drive the best horses to death, and that they are not less kind to themselves. "Obedience is better than sacrifice," should be written on every door, that it might be heeded going and coming, both for the written law of morals as well as the unwritten moralities of natural law. Obedience day by day and hour by hour to simple duties is more a test of sound brain and moral fiber than any amount of the heroics young women are fond of essaying. In the heat of summer young women use pots of extravagant cosmetics in hopes of securing a blameless complexion when nature would help them quickly to clear their skins and brighten eyes if they would only work with her. Summer is the time of all the year to lay in a store of beauty. The free perspiration, the warmth, the open air, all lead to health and physical perfection, if not thwarted by slovenly neglect.

Answers to Queries

P. A.—There is nothing that I know of that will make you taller. Nourishing foods, plenty of exercise and fresh air will help. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall send you the formula for the green soap treatment for blackheads, a good cleansing cream, and a healing, soothing salve for pimples.

MRS. T. S.—There are several good shoulder braces on the market, and when properly fitted they are not uncomfortable. I think it is better to wear such a brace all the time than to have stooping shoulders. Induce deep breathing, and try keeping the shoulders back. You are still young and it will not be hard for you to keep your shoulders back.

ROSE—I have sent you the formula for the cold cream. There is nothing better for a chapped face than this cream, or a good skin food. You can use it at any time. If used before going out, apply a bit of it to the face and then take off the surplus cream and apply a good face powder. This will protect the face from the cold winds and will also make the face soft. You might try pulling the little hairs out between the eyebrows. First soften the skin with warm water, then pull the hairs out and apply a bit of ammonia to the roots. The ammonia will kill them.

HARRIET—There is no possible way to make the feet and hands smaller. The only thing to do is to dress them as neatly and as comfortably as possible. I suspect your feet are in equal proportion to your body, and you would look very funny indeed if they were too small. Women's feet are much larger nowadays than they used to be. Bay rum is good for the hair. It stimulates the oil glands to activity.

HARRIET—In the case of a double chin and flabby neck prevention is easier than to cure. Tight collars always make ugly rolls of fat under the chin, and the habit of holding the chin down and in is fatal. A good exercise for preventing a double chin is to raise your head and blow at a bit of imaginary thistledown, keeping the chin in the air for about five minutes, supposing the thistledown to be first on one side of you and then on the other. Try this before your glass and see how it rounds out your neck and tightens the muscles. Another good exercise is to throw the head back with force, putting all the muscles on the stretch, then turn the head from side to side. Massage the neck with a rotary motion each night when retiring. I shall be glad to send you the formula for skin food for eradicating wrinkles from the face if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

GRANDMA PERIL TO THE CHILD

"Give the Children Lickings," Advises Doctor in Talk to Parents.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 27. — "Dear old grandma" is the greatest peril to the proper nourishment of young children, according to Dr. John Lovett Morse, associate professor of pediatrics at the Harvard Medical School.

"The greatest obstacle to the proper feeding of children," says Dr. Morse, "is grandmother. Many a woman who looked after the diet of her own children has spoiled the lives of her grandchildren.

"Fathers are the ones who spoil their youngsters' appetites for simple foods. They tempt the little ones with too solid food, like baked beans and other abominations.

"Children should not make the acquaintance of candy, but it is well enough for them to know what it is when they see it. One reason that children do not sleep at night is because mothers keep them up after 6 o'clock in the evening to see their fathers come home. Then pa romps with them; they get excited and lie awake.

"Every youngster needs a licking once in a while, and when he is to get it he should have a good one. Children must be made to obey."

At 2 years Dr. Morse would give children chops, chicken, steak and roast beef, plain blanc mange, tapioca, sago, plain rice and bread puddings.

UNCLE SAM DOSEN'T BELIEVE IN TIPPING

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Captain Matthem E. Hanna, U. S. A., who recently resigned from the army to enter business in this city, has discovered that the government does not believe in tips. Captain Hanna, as a member of the general staff, witnessed the German army manuevers as guest of the Emperor in 1911, and on his visit spent $80.45 in tips to waiters and hotel servants.

It is said that the total bill of $219 which he turned in was only half of what it cost him to maintain his part of the dignity of the United States representative during his visit and in this he had included the tipping item. After considerable correspondence the treasury department has finally ruled that Captain Hanna must stand th tipping expense himself.

PLAY CARDS TO AID INSTITUTION

In many ways the party will be unique. Not only is the object a worthy one, the clearing of the debt of the venerable institution across the bay on its fiftieth anniversary, but the entertainment will be varied and high class.

PAYS PENALTY FOR NEGLECT OF WIFE

Charles T. Battelle to Serve Six Months for Failure to Provide.

Judge Harris Declares There Are no Mitigating Circumstances in Case.

Charles Thornton Battelle will serve six months in the county jail because he failed to provide for his 20-year-old bride, Evelyn Mickelson Battelle, according to sentence imposed by Superior Judge Harris this morning.

"I do not consider that there are any mitigating circumstances in the case of a man who would call up his hungry wife over the telephone and read her an elaborate menu," said Judge Harris. "I do not wish to make you a felon, but I am going to give you time to think the matter over. When you get out in the spring, work will be plentiful and you will have an opportunity to support your family."

Before sentence was pronounced the defendant made a plea for leniency.

"I am not going to say anything about the 115 days I have spent in jail waiting trial," he said. "I only want to say that I love my dear little wife. I'll be a father soon and I want to take care of my child."

Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith, who prosecuted Battelle and obtained the first conviction in a case of this character in the courts of this county, reminded the court that Battelle had said, according to testimony given during the trial, that he would steal the child from its mother if he got an opportunity.

BRIDEGROOM 56 YEARS OLD.

Letters received by Deputy District Attorney Smith from Mrs. Elienta Battelle of Seattle, divorced wife of the prisoner, enclosed epistles from him written in the county jail. One dated December 11 last commenced:

"Lena: Well, here I am, where I imagine you've expected I'd land some day, namely, in jail, but fortunately for myself, it's not something (or crime) that I've committeed, but rather that's been committed against me. When on May 30 last at Fresno, Cal., I married Evelyn Mickelson (aged 20) I guess I got all that's coming to a man of 55 who tries matrimony for the second time with a kid, and as I am not expecting any sympathy from you (or my children), you will pardon my letting you particularly know how and why it happened, because I know you all will have a good laugh."

The writer then went on to attribute his troubles to his wife's older sister, Stella, whose hand he said he had rejected.

"Evelyn has proved herself to be what I at first loved her for, i. e., a charming personality, coupled with good conversational power and a musical and vocal education, and besides she paints life studies well. But she lacks one of your strong characteristics, namely, ability to stand by a decision once made, and her waverings to and fro, first blowing hot and then cold, keeps me guessing where I'll finally land with her."

CALLS LETTER ABOMINABLE.

"He has continually annoyed us by an incessant correspondence, although we have returned his letters and forbidden him to write to us," wrote the former Mrs. Battelle to the district attorney. "At the very time of his arrest in Oakland, he wrote us he was about to visit Seattle on his way to New York and engaged rooms at the Savoy hotel. Yesterday I received the enclosed letter which I consider the most callous and abominable letter I have ever read. The girl and child should be saved from doing what I did through a sense of duty through thirteen years."

Mrs. Battelle went on to state that her former husband had never provided for her or his children, that he owned hundreds of dollars on account and for borrowed money in the North; that he moved about when debts became pressing, always living on the best and dressing well while his family was destitute.

"There is also a ninety days suspended jail sentence here in Seattle against him for petty larceny; he owes me $7200 back alimony.

"I hope he will be given the utmost punishment the law can provide."

VALUABLE DOGS KILLED POISONED MEAT FOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Dr. Alpha Beardsley of 1166 Guerrero street was the owner of two valuable dogs. Two weeks ago they died suddenly and the physician was of the opinion that they had been poisoned by neighbors or by some character with an antipathy to the canines. In order to make sure, however, that he was not accusing some one unjustly, he purchased two mongrels for experimental purposes. This morning they were found dead and Detective La Place, who investigated, found poisoned meat hanging on a fence. Every effort will be made to arrest the culprit.

'LOST' MAN FOUND MOURNED AS DEAD

WILLIAM C. GURNEA, WHO HAS BEEN FOUND IN OAKLAND AFTER BEING "MISSING" TWENTY YEARS.

W. C. Gurnea of Oakland Communicates With Mother After 20 Years of Silence

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—The mother of W. C. Gurnea, who has mourned her son as dead for the past twenty years, since he disappeared during a fit of despondency, wept joyously this morning when she received a letter announcing him to be a resident of Oakland, Cal. Mrs. Gurnea said her son was grief-crazed when he left his home in Frankfort, Ind., because of the death of his baby and the burning alive of his wife in a gasoline explosion.

MOURNED AS DEAD.

Leaving his home in Sioux Falls, Ia., in an endeavor to forget the scenes that had known his griefs, William C. Gurnea of 2721 Adeline street and foreman for the Standard Oil Company in Oakland, has been mourned as dead for the past twenty years. The death of his child, followed two weeks later by the burning to death of his first wife in a gasoline explosion and estrangements with his relatives, made him resolve to leave everything behind him and bury himself in the West.

In a prairie schooner drawn by oxen he went with a family of emigrants to Corvalis, Ore., but soon moved into California and for the past eighteen years has been employed by the Standard Oil Company.

WEDS ALAMEDA WOMAN.

Sixteen years ago Gurnea married Miss Florence McVeigh of Alameda, and despite her frequent persuasions refused to communicate with his friends. Two weeks ago, however, he relented to the extent of writing to Marshal Baker of Frankfort, Ia., asking the whereabouts of an uncle, Kenneth Thacker, whom he wished to have communicate with his mother. Gurnea is now 42.

Gurnea said this morning when he learned that his mother had been located in St. Louis, Mo., that he hoped that they might be reunited.

"My leaving," he said, "was the result of stubbornness on my part, coupled with the idea every young fellow gets when he is in trouble—that he can leave it all behind. I have been happy in California and have many friends here and hardly expect to leave."

SILENCE OF EIGHTEEN YEARS.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Jan. 27.—Chief of Police Baker has received a letter from Chester W. Gurnea, written from Oakland, Cal., after an unbroken silence of eighteen years, during which time Gurnea has been mourned as dead. Yesterday messages and the son's letter were sent to Mrs. Gurnea in St. Louis, Mo., who also mourned Gurnea as dead and plans will be made for a reuniting of mother and son.

Gurnea left Frankfort twenty years ago, locating in Sioux City, Ia., where he lived with his mother. He then went West.

WANTS BLUE MUD TO PROMOTE ART

Dr. C. A. Wills, Amateur Sculptor, Runs Out of Material.

Dr. C. A. Wills, superintendent of the County Infirmary, has made so many little blue statues that the supply in his vicinity is gone and, for the sake of art, the mud is necessary. Whether he will get the clams in the bay to "cough up" or whether he will continue to enlist the aid of well-diggers in the vicinity of Centerville, his old home, he has not decided, but one fact remains, Dr. Wills must and will have blue mud, that the art of Phidias and Praxidiles may not perish from Alameda county.

Dr. Wills, besides being a physician, is an amateur sculptor of some little note. In Centerville, where he lived and practiced, many homes were beautified by little adobe copies of the Venus de Milo, the Olympian Zeus and other works of art. The plumbing shop of F. T. Dusterberry resembled an art gallery, Dr. Wills doing most of his work there. When he came to the hospital he first looked over the patients and then located a pit of suitable mud, which he nourished carefully, and, in his spare time made statues. Art flourished at the infirmary for a time and then ceased to be in evidence. Mud was scarce, and Dr. Wills does not work in marble, for that is expensive.

A few days ago he imported a little from Centerville. A faun was the result. There is also a mud Dante at the infirmary. That used up the supply, and the doctor is waiting, with eager modelling-stick and palette, a fresh supply. He hopes to locate another soon, and promises a bust of the donor as a reward for the material.

BOWMAN WAS SUICIDE IS POLICE DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The police, after making a thorough investigation, have decided that Louis S Bowman, the young clothing salesman, whose body was found in the bay Saturday, committed suicide. Bowman disappeared after he had taken his sweetheart to her home on New Year's eve, according to the police records, but the detectives have learned that he communicated with his parents on the night of New Year's day and that something was said to him about his being extravagant.

TRIBUNE ANNUAL IS PRAISED BY TIMES

(Los Angeles Times.)

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE has issued a plump and beautiful annual in magazine form that is an achievement to be proud of. It celebrates the gratifying fact that 1912 was the most prosperous year in Oakland's history. The total building expenditure was over $9,000,000. A fine new hotel has been opened; a grand new City Hall is going up; the quay wall on the inner harbor is nearing completion; many business edifices notable for their cost and architectural beauty have been erected, and others are in course of erection; a magnificent Southern Pacific passenger station has been completed, giving the city a splendid approach from the north and west. The foundations for the Auditorium, which is to cost $500,000, are being laid, and the work of erecting the new manual training school, for which $500,000 has been appropriated, will begin this month. Work is now in progress on sixteen new school buildings for which bonds have been voted. Oakland, indeed, sees nothing but brightness ahead, and THE TRIBUNE brightly reflects it.

BURGLAR MAY BE LOCAL 'RAFFLES'

Police Captain Promises Surprise in Arrest of Bold Thief.

Mooney Declares Law Will Soon Close on Well-Known Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The burglar who played hide-and-seek with the police on the streets in a rain of bullets on Saturday night, and who robbed the residence of S. N. Wood some time since of jewelry to the value of $5500, is known to the police. Captain of Detectives Mooney declared this morning that he would have him in custody within 24 hours.

"He is not an ex-convict," said Mooney. "He is a man quite well known. You will be surprised when you find who he really is. What do you think of a fellow who will go to the home of a friend in the neighborhood and phone to the house he robbed?"

Mooney would say no more, but it is quite evident that he refers to the telephoning that was done by the robbers on Saturday night when he made arrangements for "Mrs. Green" to meet him, and narrowly escaped being caught. Whether the man is someone acquainted with the Wood household or whether he is just prominent locally, and not of the criminal type, remains to be seen. Mooney spoke with a directness and air of assurance which would make it appear as though he already had the man in custody or at least under surveillance.

SCORES OF 'SPEED BURNERS' JAILED

Automobilists and Motorcycle Drivers Are Placed Under Arrest.

Arrests were made by the Oakland police yesterday, of Sunday "speed burners," fifty-five automobile drivers and motorcyclists being arrested. In the majority of cases bail was forfeited in the police courts this morning.

The arrests were made by a posse of patrolmen working under the direction of Captain Thorwald Brown. The men were placed at intervals along the boulevard, on East Fourteenth street and other places frequented by automobiles and motorcycles. Stop watches were used in calculating the speed. Those arrested were as follows:

L. Schomer, M. B. Hornback, Oscar Goodman, G. A. Warnock, J. G. Jackson, C. Sebastian, D. Van Hoosier, F. Sliva, G. Foster, C. Ruchbold, L. G. Blanchard, Harry Skomond, Floyd Bell, E. G. Vanick, H. L. Weaver, F. S. Greenlee, E. H. Harrell, David Smart., E. C. Miller, W. L. Waller, A. W. Coffin, F. A. Curts, Charles D. Mello, H. Brandon, L. L. Hooker, Y. N. Sakaki, W. E. Harden, Lewis Woltwar, Harley Woods, A. W. Keel, G. W. McGehee, F. L. Reson, H. L. Sluus, W. I. Morrison, C. C. Hopkins, R Wissel, N. Milcovich, H. N. Bowers, A. Christina, H. J. Lederer, G. O. Bickford, D. J. Esole, D. F. Holliday, A. L. Oheme, M. P. Isaacs, W. L. Conden, H. H. Haight, L. Kahrs, F. C. Frank, R. E. Newby, B. D. Balart, C. M. Eckland, S. Fredericks, H. Broderick, E. G. GUESTS FLEE WHEN OMAHA HOTEL BURNS

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 27.—A fire which started in the basement of the Paxton Hotel annex shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday morning threatened for a time to destroy the six-story hotel building and caused a panic among the hundred guests, nearly forty of whom, scantily clad, were removed from the smoke-filled structure by aerial ladders in the hands of firemen.

E. H. Shaw of Staunton, Mass., who was asleep on the top floor, was one of the last to reach a window. When he climbed over the window ledge it was found that the ladder lacked nealy five feet of reaching him. Holding by his hands, he managed to reach the ladder with his fet, and, with the assistance of a fireman, descended safely.

WILSON IS ON LIST? IS AFTER U. S. JOB

JOSEPH R. WILSON, BROTHER OF PRESIDENT-ELECT, WHO MAY BE SECRETARY OF UNITED STATES SENATE.

Brother of President-Elect May Be Secretary of Senate; Others in Field

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Joseph R. Wilson of Nashville, Tenn., brother of President-elect Wilson and a newspaper man, is a candidate for Secretary of the United States Senate, and is supported by Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee.

Wilson was employed at the National Democratic headquarters in New York City during the campaign.

There are several other candidates in the field, one of them Robert M. Gales, Washington correspondent of the Memphis Commercial Appeal. Robert G. Woolley, formerly connected with the Washington bureau of a New York newspaper and a native of Kentucky, is also in the race.

CABINET RUMORS MANY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Following the announcement that William J. Bryan is to be secretary of state in the cabinet of President Wilson, politicians who are close to the New Jersey statesman give it out that other cabinet positions are to be filled as follows:

Henry A. Morganthau, New York, secretary of the treasury.
Representative Alber S. Burleson, Texas, secretary of agriculture.
Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Pennsylvania, attorney-general.
Josephus Daniels, North Carolina, postmaster-general.
Former Senator Obediah Gardiner, Maine, secretary of the inerior.

Just how far these tentative selections for cabinet positions made by Governor Wilson will suit the political leaders in Washington remains to be seen.

Speaker Clark is non-committal on the subject, although he has discussed different names with Governor Wilson.

House Democratic Leader Underwood is openly supporting Representative Henry D. Clayton, a fellow Alabaman, for attorney-general.

Clayton is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and a delegation from that committee went to Trenton a few days ago to urge Governor Wilson to appoint Judge Clayton as attorney-general.

NEIGHBOR OF GOVERNOR.

Morganthau, who is believed to be slated for the treasury portfolio, is a neighbor of Governor Wilson in New Jersey, although a voter in New York. He is a close friend of Cleveland Dodge of New York, one of the first men to get behind Governor Wilson for the nomination, and foremost financier of the pre-convention fight.

Neither Burleson nor Palmer are certain of their selection for the cabinet positions to which they aspire, but are young men, ambitious and active, and their friends are not backward in pressing their claims for appointment.

Rumors are current here of a disagreement between National Chairman McCombs and William C. McAdoo, vice-chairman of the National Committee, over appointments to the cabinet. The exact nature of the disagreement is not known, but it is said to be of such a character that it has been carried to Governor Wilson for settlement.

Political leaders will not discuss the appointment of Bryan as secretary of state or its political effect. Opponents of Bryan in the House and Senate are drawing their lines more closely, to be prepared for that which may come.

ACCUSED WOMAN FREED BY POLICE

Charlotte Green Released by Order of Captain of Detectives.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Charlotte Green, arrested together with Jacob Taber, a burglar, was released this morning by order of the captain of detectives. Taber has been connected with half a dozen crimes in Berkeley and several jobs in this city. He was at first believed to be the burglar of the Wood home, but the detectives satisfied themselves that he could not be the man as the outbreak of Friday and Saturday showed conclusively that the culprit was still at large. Mrs. Green, who was taken into custody because she was in the company of Taber, was apparently guiltless of wrongdoing.

JAPANESE HELD UP, SCREAMS; BANDITS RUN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—S. Comoto, a Japanese, was held up by four footpads on the Barbary Coast this morning and $16.50 taken from his pocket. His cries attracted the police but the culprits escaped in the darkness.

Louis Markel of 642 Golden Gate avenue, was walking along B street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues, shortly after midnight when two men approached and demanded his coin. He refused and they held a brace of pistols to his head. Compelled to submit he handed over $180 which he carried in an inside pocket.

SICKLES SAVED FROM JAIL CELL

Sheriff Hamburger of N. Y. Goes to Rescue of Old Friend.

Ultimatum From Wife Tells Conditions of Her Return.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—In order to spare his old friend, Daniel E. Sickles, the humiliation of arrest, Sheriff Hamburger himself personally arranged with counsel for the general to secure bail from a surety company. This will obviate the necessity of locking General Sickles in the Ludlow street jail, pursuant to an order from the Supreme Court issued after the old soldier had failed to account for more than $20,000 received for the New York Monuments Commission.

Under a flag canopy in his lower Fifth avenue home Sickles, the hero of Gettysburg, awaited a climax in his affairs which have entailed public interest for many months.

ULTIMATUM FROM WIFE.

On the one hand there was said to be an ultimatum from his wife, from whom he has long been estranged, presenting the conditions under which she will return to his abode, and on the other hand there was a court order for his civil arrest.

Friends of the general were heading a subscription list to meet his debt, or to provide the $30,000 bond which would save him from the humiliation of imprisonment.

At the age of 87 years, General Sickles is a picturesque character and appeared especially so to many passers-by who saw him last night sitting by the window of his big brick house on the corner of Fifth avenue and Ninth street. The room was crowded with many relics of the civil war. Against the general's chair there was leaning the crutch which he uses. He lost one leg in the battle of Gettysburg. On a little table near him was a large vase containing flowers. Above his chair and some two feet over his head there were two United States flags.

ASIATIC STEAMER IS NOW IN PORT

Norwegian Freighter "Bangor" Arrives; "Terrier" Also Docks in Habor.

The sixth steamer of the East Asiatic's service arrived here late yesterday afternoon after a passage of 11 days from Copenhagen and 31 days from Antwerp, the arrival being the big Norwegian freighter Bangor. Upon the arrival at this port the big vessel was wharped alongside Long Wharf, where it is discharging a general cargo, consisting of coke, rags and carbon. Captain Hoelstad, skipper of the big craft, reported an uneventful trip. The East Asiatic people are making strenuous efforts to increase the efficiency and speed of their fleet in preparation for the trade which will follow the opening of the Panama Canal, and for this reason are installing new engines of oil fuel for operative power.

Another Norwegian vessel docked here this morning, the vessel being the freighter "Terrier," which is loading cotton for China. This is the largest cotton cargo picked up from this side this year.

A heavy fog which hung over the waterfront caused a general tying-up of local shipping. Ferryboats were delayed in their scheduled sailing. A number of near-collisions were reported. The "Thoroughfare" of the Harbor service missed its berth while coming up the stream, and for a time was in danger of striking the Webster-street bridge. There was no damage reported.

The steam schooner Chehalis, which recently underwent repairs here, sailed yesterday for Antofogasta, Chile, in charge of Captain Dedrick.

After discharging lumber cargoes at the E. K. Wood Lumber Yards, the steam schooners Hardy and Vanguard sailed this afternoon to prepare for sea.

The steam schooner Nome City and the schooner Oakland are at the Sunset yards, discharging lumber.

The Navajo is at Long Wharf loading cement for the north. Other vessels at Long Wharf included the Brunswick, Sea Foam and Umatilla.

BEGIN WAR ON ARGENTINE ANT

Berkeley Police Distribute Instructions Furnished by U. C. Professor.

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. — War on the Argentine ants wherever they appear in this city was started by the police department this morning with the distribution to infected districts of a booklet on "Destroying the Argentine Ant" by Professor C. W. Woodworth of the University of California. The task is outside the regular run of police duty, but was assumed by Chief Vollmer when its necessity became apparent.

The ant was first discovered in Berkeley in 1910 at the southwest corner of Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue. The present distribution is as follows:

In South Berkeley all the territory between Emerson and Alcatraz, Shattuck and Adeline; two blocks bounded by Russell, Grove, Ashby and Ellis; four blocks cornering at Harper and Prince; southwest corner of Harper and Woolsey; block between Oregon, Ellsworth, Stuart and Telegraph; Plaza Drive and Tunnel Road east ward from Domingo avenue; five blocks at head of Channing way northward to the campus; two blocks bounded by Bancroft, Channing, Telegraph and Dana; two blocks between Le Roy and La Loma; two blocks between Hilgard, Cedar, Arch and Euclid; Hawthorne Terrace to Henry street and from Vine to Eunice and on each side of Oxford almost to Los Angeles.

Professor Woodworth fears that, unless destructive measures are followed at once, the ants will spread from these sections to surrounding neighborhoods and overrun the city. The booklets being distributed by the police tell householders the best means of exterminating and request cooperation.

AVIATOR BLAKLEY IS UNDER ARREST

Accused With Three Others of Taking Copper From Hulk California.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27. — Aviator H. W. Blakley is to take a flight into the Alameda police court tomorrow morning, accompanied by his brother, E. F. Blakley; his mechanician, Joseph Cato, and a teamster, R. W. Walton. All four are to answer to charges of petit larceny.

The four stripped a sackful of copper wire, copper rods and copper deadeye frames from the remnants of the old hulk California, is the charge, not knowing that Captain P. Peters had purchased the old hulk for the purpose of stripping the ship for junk. The sackful of copper junk was sold to McCurry, a bell ringing junk dealer who has patroled Alameda streets for years.

The partial remains of the old hulk lie unguarded on the Alameda water front. Captain Peters has been stripping the old hulk at odd times, even carrying away for firewood the dry portions of the woodwork. But half of the hull remains and the remnant apparently is a piece of castoff garbage. Under this impression Blakley and his mechanician, brother and a hired teamster, are said to have pried loose and carted away the sackful of copper stuff which they sold for about eight cents a pound to the junkman.

Walton were merely hired to haul the retrieved stuff away. All four men are at liberty on bonds. Attorney John L. McVey will represent them in court.

The old hulk has lain on the Alameda water front for years. Formerly, before the hulk was dissected into a shapeless pile of wreckage, the owner, or his agent, lived in the hulk in a little shack built on the forward deck. A huge New Foundland dog served as watchman for a time and successfully kept intruders away.

ANOTHER AUTO FIRE TRUCK FOR RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Jan. 27. — Richmond is to have a second big combination automobile chemical engine and hose wagon in a few weeks, the same being shipped in time to arrive here by February 20. The new machine is to be similar to the other and will be in charge of Fire Company No. 2, on the east side of the city, thus fitting out both the east and west side companies with the latest improved fire fighting machines of the kind. When this machine gets installed the horses and chemical wagon of No. 2 will be sent to an outlying fire house for use in the suburban districts. The Stege and Pullman districts are clamoring for better fire protection and it is likely the old machine may go there, as the water supply of the Pullman company cannot be used outside of the plant owing to a rule to that effect by the company.

The method of operation of the wily stranger is to offer a membership in a pattern club for $7.50 a year, collect $4.80 of the amount and give a receipt signed A. B. Clark, A. B. Cook or W. H. Relsay, as traveling auditor for the company he alleges he represents. This is the last the merchant ever sees of the $4.80 or of his fashion service.

DR. FRANK BRUSH RESIGNS PULPIT

Alameda Pastor to Leave in May for Two-Year Tour of Europe.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27.—Dr. F. S. Brush, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, notified his congregation last night that he would resign his pastorate in the immediate future. The divine and his wife are to leave the middle of May for Europe to spend two years.

Dr. Brush will take abroad with him a party of American tourists and presumably will continue to follow the travel plan with which he has been so successful on two previous occasions. Two years ago Dr. Brush took abroad a party to see the passion play at Oberammergau. Last year he went abroad with a second party.

His resignation came as a surprise to his congregation. The popular divine has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church for 19 years. Before coming to California he was pastor at Bloomington, Illinois. After giving up this pastorate he spent a year in traveling about the United States and then came to California. After serving two years at Los Gatos he came to Alameda.

The retiring pastor is not only popular and beloved in his congregation but is highly esteemed by the general social and business world of Alameda. He is a member of the Alameda Masonic lodge and serves as chaplain for the lodge when a chaplain's services are specially required. He is also well known as a speaker before the Alameda schools and before civic clubs and other organizations working for the general advance of Alameda.

The notification given the church last night was not a resignation, but rather a notice of the pastor's intention to resign. The minister said this morning that the resignation would follow the notice given last night. He did not discuss his plans in detail today, but said he and Mrs. Brush would spend two years abroad and would travel about during most of that time. He also added he would take a third party of tourists abroad with him.

The church congregation, as yet, has had no opportunity to consider the calling of a successor. The First Presbyterian church is one of the largest and most influential in Alameda. During Dr. Brush's pastorate the handsome house of worship at Santa Clara avenue and Chestnut street was built, taking the place of the old church which stood at Central and Versailles avenues.

SOCIAL WORK IS CHURCH PROBLEM

Chicago Settlement Worker Tells of Problems Confronting Large Cities.

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. — The uplift of humanity through the betterment of social conditions must be the future task of the church, according to Rev. Harry F. Ward, who spoke at Trinity church yesterday. Rev. Ward is secretary of the Methodist Federation for social service and a student of social problems for many years. He headed for 10 years the social work in the Polish quarters in the stockyards, Chicago.

The speaker stated that the church must take an active interest in the furtherance of protective legislation for the benefit of workers and must forge to the front in the positive work of socialization. He emphasized the importance of service to humanity as the distinguishing characteristic of the true Christian, and declared that the highest type of Christian activity is devotion to the welfare of one's fellow beings.

"Christianity in China" was the subject of an address delivered in St. John's Presbyterian church by Ng Pong Chew, the Chinese editor of San Francisco. The breakdown of ancient institutions through the influence of the new Chinese republic was declared by the speaker to be favorable for the spread of Christianity.

DAMAGE TO SHIP IS NOT SERIOUS

Divers Investigate Wreck of Mackinaw; Passengers Reported Safe.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27. — Divers found today that the Panama steamer Mackinaw was not seriously damaged when the vessel crashed into the breakwater at San Pedro in the fog last night. Captain Robert Dollar, owner of the vessel, who was on board when she struck, said the damage to the ship would not exceed $10,000. The cargo, including 20,000 tons of Atlantic freight, is practically undamaged.

The cargo was being discharged today. When that task is done the Mackinaw will be docked at the Craig shipyard at Long Beach or sent to San Francisco for repairs.

The Mackinaw lost its bearings in a heavy fog and ran her bow on to the breakwater 300 yards from the outer tip, piling upon the breakwater and striking with starboard bow stove in and with another hole in the starboard side.

Robert Dollar ordered Captain McClements to lower the lifeboats and get the men away. Two boatloads of men were picked up by tugs and launches that went out to the vessel's aid. A third boat with Dollar aboard got off in safety and after making its way through the fog landed at San Pedro. Tugs were able to get a line to the Mackinaw and towed her in to port.

The first "S. O. S." signal was received at San Pedro and San Francisco wireless stations at exactly the same time, 6:47 p. m.

W. S. Scammell, director of the company, went to meet the boat at San Pedro, but did not sail on it. He left Los Angeles for San Francisco by train.

The Mackinaw, which is a steel-hulled vessel of 1300 horsepower, was built in West Bay City, Mich., in 1890. Its papers as a coastwise vessel were issued at Portland, Me., her home port.

The vessel has been in the coastwise trade on this coast for 15 years and until recently was leased from the owners, W. S. Scammell & Co., by the Bates & Chesebrough Co., which recently became insolvent. The cargo which is was bringing to San Francisco from Balboa was being handled by the Scammel company.

The Mackinaw was valued by shipping men at $125,000. She carried a crew of 31, under Captain McClements of San Francisco.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27. — In one of the heaviest fogs in many months, the revenue cutter Bear, Captain Ballinger, put to sea, last night, on receipt by wireless of the standing of the steamer Mackinaw on the breakwater at San Pedro. The Bear went out of the channel, grounding on a mud bank near North island. At high tide this morning efforts were made to float the big cutter and at 10 o'clock she drifted clear of the bank.

THERE ARE TWO SIDES TO 'SCARE'

Guard at Houser Home Has to Make Many Explanations.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27. — Even a small pox scare has its funny side, and Alameda's lone case has proven no exception to the rule. The joke this time is on Policeman Ehrenpfort and Vice-principal Houser was the innocent cause of it all. It happened in this way:

When it was discovered that Houser was suffering from a slight attack of varioloid, the board of health immediately quarantined the home of the instructor. Neither the police officer nor Houser were notified of the quarantine, and the watchman was simply told to see that no one entered or left the premises.

When the officer on the beat was informed by a nervous woman of the neighborhood that a man was prowling about the house in which Houser is a prisoner, he investigated. The guard had walked away and the policeman rang the bell of the Houser home. He was informed that the occupant had seen no suspicious character, and walked away.

Shortly thereafter the nervous woman again saw "the suspicious stranger" and this time rang the police station. Policeman Ehrenpfort was immediately detailed. He went to the scene and arrested the guard.

"What are you doing here?" he asked.

"Only guarding this house," was the reply.

"Well, you can come along with me and we will guard you for awhile," said the officer.

The guard assured the policeman that he had been sent there by the board of health, and a compromise was effected whereby it was agreed to leave the explanation to Houser. At the door Houser explained that he knew nothing of the guard. The guard insisted that he had been sent there by the health board and light dawned on the instructor.

"Well," he offered, "I have smallpox, you know."

"Good night," shouted Ehrenpfort, beating it for the street.

Next day the policeman was vaccinated on both arms.

'BROADWAY JONES' TO OPEN TONIGHT

George M. Cohan's Play Will be Seen at the Macdonough Theater.

George M. Cohan continues to develop, and in that there is cause for satisfaction, for Cohan, both as a writer and an actor, has shown unusual capacity for conveying to the stage a record of genuine impressions.

In "Broadway Jones," his latest play, which comes to the Macdonough tonight, his types and his scenes, though occasionally admitting exaggeration, designed to increase their humorous or theatrical effectiveness, are certainly racy of the soil.

"Broadway Jones" could not by any chance be converted into a "Picadilly Jones," for he is as truly United States as that flag which in some of his songs Cohan converted to his own particular uses.

Cohan in his contact with life has apparently discovered that a true thing is, in the long run, a satisfying as well as an appealing thing, and in analyzing "Broadway Jones," as well as all the plays that have come from his pen, this assertion becomes more and more apparent. His characters have become more and more like the actualities, and that without any sacrifice of interest.

"Broadway Jones," for instance, has a wonderful windfall just at the moment when it will serve him best, and the speeches the author has given to him are the natural outgrowth of the environment of the character. There are one thousand and one little details in character, in incident, that commend themselves as being what is ordinarily called realistic, yet they are not lugged in: they are there because the author has seen or heard them in exactly such places as he seeks to reproduce, and so with his characters in "Broadway Jones," even though they are mere sketches, one sympathizes, because they seem like folks many of us have either lived with or encountered.

Of the cleverness of Cohan's humor and the freshness of his invention it is hardly necessary to speak; that was long ago proved in his musical comedies—in the lines, in the lyrics and in the general relationship of the characters. Nor is it necessary to underline the fact that he is a good showman, a fact which in "The Little Millionaire" he analyzed himself in that clever song "P. T. Barnum Had the Right Idea."

MINOR SUNDAY FIRE.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27. — An intense draft caused by the burning of papers in the furnace of the J. Sherman McDowell home at Fernside boulevard and Liberty avenue, was yesterday afternoon responsible for the belching upon the shingled roof of a number of living coals which soon set fire to the dry shingles.

Neighbors noticed the blaze and notified the family and a garden hose was run up to the roof and first aid measures employed while a still alarm was turned in. Hose No. 4 responded, but the fire had been conquered when the apparatus arrived. The damage is nominal.

MISS EDNA SELLECK. —Bushnell photos.

Reservations are being made daily for the big pilgrimage which will be taken to Truckee Pass next Saturday evening under the auspices of Athens Parlor No. 195, Native Sons of the Golden West. County Auditor E. F. Garrison, Fred H. Jung, grand secretary of the order; C. F. Corrigan, E. T. Nelson and others who have charge of the sale of tickets report that great interest is taken in the forthcoming excursion and more than 300 members of the bay city parlors of the N. S. G. W. and N. D. G. W. and their friends are expected to take the trip.

In addition to a varied program of winter sports the pilgrims will make a trip in sleigh rides to Donner Lake to visit a memorial placed there by the order in memory of the historic Donner party. The history of this unfortunate expedition has entered into the ritualistic ceremonies of the order. On returning from the trip to Truckee Pass the 300 visitors will indulge in skating, skiing, tobogganing and snow-balling. The toboggan slide is a mile long and is equipped with a cable for hauling the toboggans back to the summit.

Jackson, Miss Edna Selleck, Miss A. Heckell, Mrs. E. A. Watson, Mrs. Sarah De Blois and Mrs. R. J. Gray. In addition to the crowds which will leave from Oakland and San Francisco the Native Sons and their friends will board the train at Antioch, Suisun and other points. The pilgrims will return home early Monday morning.

CHAIN-GANG ESCAPE CAUGHT IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27. — Frank McCoy, arrested by the police Saturday afternoon for alleged begging and charged with vagrancy, proves to be an escaped prisoner from the Stockton chain gang. McCoy's picture and description were found by Detective William H. Wahmuth after the prisoner's familiarity with the method of taking finger prints had aroused the detective's suspicions that McCoy had been finger-printed before.

The Stockton authorities were notified of McCoy being in custody but answered that they did not wish to bother with him and for the Alameda police to prosecute him on the Alameda vagrancy charge. He will appear in court tomorrow.

McCoy's arrest caused some speculation among citizens knowing of his arrest, as to whether or not he was the bit and brace burglar who has been operating in Alameda for the last two weeks. The detectives feel reasonably sure he is not the bit and brace burglar.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE ON SUBURBAN LINES

HAYWARD, Jan. 27.—The agitation of the Hayward and San Leandro Chamber of Commerce for cheaper fares and improved traveling facilities on the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways line is having a beneficial effect. The latest community to rejoice is Ashland, which station has been given a five-cent fare to Oakland. The old-fashioned car on the line to San Lorenzo has also been replaced by a larger and more modern vehicle.

YOUNG MEN'S CIVIC LEAGUE TO MEET

ALAMEDA, Jan. 27. — The regular meeting of the Young Men's Civic league will be held tomorrow evening, with N. G. Welburn in the chair. Matters relating to the home buying campaign and the club's endorsement of the aspirants for office will be fully discussed.

In all probability the club will hold the first "home buying" open air meeting at Central avenue and Park street on next Saturday evening. On the evening of February 8, a similar meeting will be held at the corner of Webster street and Santa Clara avenue.

WOMAN BATTLES FOR HER PURSE

Tears it Away From Assailant and Promptly Telephones to the Police.

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. — Miss B. Hartwig of 2237 Vine street, in a struggle with a man who attempted to seize her purse last night, succeeded in retaining her property and by telephoning at once to the police assisted in his capture. At the police station the man arrested, O. A. S. Birkness, 230 The Embaracadero, San Francisco, denied the attempted robbery.

He was identified by Mrs. Hartwig and her companion, Miss Helen Rahorn. According to their statement, they were crossing Spruce street on Shattuck when Birkness, who was standing with two other men, left his companions, walked behind Miss Hartwig and Miss Rahorn and suddenly seized the latter's purse, which she carried by her side.

Miss Hartwig kept hold of the purse and after a brief struggle with her assailant succeeded in pulling it away. She ran to a store on Vine street, where she telephoned to the police. Sergeant Thomas A. Wooley and a detail found Birkness near the scene of the attempted robbery. After his identification he was placed under arrest. He gave his occupation as that of a sailor and denied the charge against him.

TAKES COIN; GOES IN AUTO; MISSING

Berkeley Woman Seeks Trace of Brother, Missing Since Motor Party.

BERKELEY, Jan. 27. — Fearful of a tragic sequel to a joy ride in which her brother participated Wednesday night and from which he has never returned, Mrs. Grover Henderkan, 1930 Center street, has appealed to the police to assist in her search for him. Her brother is Frederick Looney of Seattle, who had been her guest for several days up to Wednesday.

Wednesday evening Looney went out early to cross the bay. About 10 o'clock, according to Mrs. Handerkan, he returned in an automobile accompanied by Russell Berger and Albert Tarwater, San Francisco friends, and two women. He secured from her $140 which he had given her to keep for him, and left with the others in the machine. Since that time she has had no word from him of any kind.

Mrs. Handerkan describes him as being 5 feet 9 or 10 inches tall and weighing 170 pounds. He is 25 years of age, has dark curly hair, greyish blue eyes and is smooth shaven. He was dressed in a brown suit, hat and shoes.

ALLEGED BUNKO MAN HAS HEARING

Peter Pasquini Arraigned for Alleged Participation in Theft.

Peter Pasquini, an alleged bunko man, arrested on an Oakland warrant by the Los Angeles police, brought to this city by Inspector Niels, was arraigned today on a felony grand larceny charge. Pasquini was a partner of Carlo Granaglia, now serving six years in San Quentin on a charge growing out of the same offense as that on which Pasquini was arrested.

The grand larceny was committed last July, Louis Aragona, a bootblack of Salmon alley, San Francisco, being the victim. Aragona met two men in Oakland and went with them to Harrison Park. The three planned to go into business together and Aragona contributed $350. The money was placed in a handkerchief, which Aragona was given to hold.

The two men disappeared and when Aragona opened the handkerchief he found that it was full of iron washers and that his companions had the money. Aragona recognized Granaglia about six months ago in San Francisco and effected his capture. Granaglia was found guilty and sent to San Quentin.

Last February he broke into the home of Edward J. O'Brien, 4440 California street. The court was lenient with him because of the fact that he admitted the crime and was ready to take sentence immediately.

Jim Driscoll Picked to Beat Owen Moran Tonight in London

FOUR-ROUND MONARCH TO MEET THE LAST PRETENDER

Tommy McFarland Only Block in Path of Hoppe to Professional Debut

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)

Pugilistically, the week will open tonight with the Owen Moran-Jem Driscoll lightweight battle before the National Sporting club in dear old Lunnon. There seems to be quite a revival of interest in England in the world of pugdom since Freddie Welsh became a pretender to the throne by defeating Mehegan. In America we are not inclined to take foreign claims seriously, experience having convinced us that when it comes to fighting, this country can be safely relied upon to develop a world's champion whenever one is needed.

Driscoll, always a great favorite in England, has been made a 10 to 7 favorite to take Moran's measure though the latter is reported in dispatches to have trained faithfully and to have worked out in his best form, using the American style of training.

The winner will be hailed as "champion feather of the world" until he comes to this country and meets Kilbane.

Whirlwind Willie Again

There's nothing like forcing your luck, when it's breaking right. Witness Willie Hoppe, the four round king, who meets Tommy McFarland next Friday evening in Pavilion rink for Toby Irwin's top card. Willie gets $750 for his share of the evening's entertainment, and Irwin is not at all worried at not getting his money back.

Hoppe seems to be the great card in the business right now, and the promoters are scrambling on his trail.

McFarland seems to be the last block in the path of the Butchertown thrashing machine. If Hoppe wins next Friday evening, he might just as well retire or else become professional and try his stamina over the derby path. McFarland figures to give Hoppe the acid test.

Irwin has another entree in sight for the fans and has booked Young Abe Attell against Johnnie O'Leary who puts the skids under Manuel Vierra the other night. O'Leary seems to be the most promising fighter that has come down from the north for a long time. He and Attell will furnish a thriller if they can really induce the Denver boy to appear. Attell has been acting rather queerly lately, his first successes having enlarged his head to the extent that his ears are stretched continually for the old tinkle from the box office.

Bubbles Robinson, the Los Angeles Ethiopian who made a monkey out of Racehorse Munson the other night before the West Oakland club, will try his skill on Phil Morgan, while Lem Kegg will peer into the earnest optics of Young Wussow from Milwaukee. Sam Slavich and Tom Nickola, at 150 pounds, will also argue it out. Other bouts are:

Kid Bertelsen vs. Joe Phillips of Boston, 118 pounds; Owen Hooker vs. Dick Green, 115 pounds; Happy Thomas vs. Salinas Jack Robinson, 133 pounds and Joe Mackey vs. Dick Kendall, 133 pounds.

Bouts of the Week

Following is a list of the principal boxing bouts of the week:

Monday—Pal Brown vs. Jack Redmond, 10 rounds, at Milwaukee; Louie Schultz vs. Willie Schaeffer, eight rounds, at Milwaukee; Jack Dillon vs. Tommy Connors, 20 rounds, at Springfield, O.; Jack Britton vs. Jimmy Evans, eight rounds, at Memphis; One Round Hogan vs. Bob Scanlon, 10 rounds, at Brooklyn, N. Y.; Young Jack O'Brien vs. Al Ketchel, 10 rounds, at Bridgeport, Conn.; Dauber Jaeger vs. Young Pinkey, 10 rounds, at Fond Du Lac, Wis.; Johnny Dundee vs. Charley Hirsch, 10 rounds, at New York; Jeff O'Connell vs. Joe Hartman, 20 rounds, at Springfield, O.; Owen Moran vs. Jem Driscoll, 20 rounds, at London, England.

Tuesday—Jeff Smith vs. Charley Duncan, 20 rounds, at Rome, Italy; Joe Sherman vs. Milburn Saylor, 10 rounds, at Indianapolis; Jim Savage vs. Al Kubelik, 10 rounds, at New Orleans.

Wednesday—Banty Lewis vs. Charley Lenron, 20 rounds, at Rome, Italy; Ray Bronson vs. Jimmy Perry, 10 rounds, at Indianapolis; Jerry Murphy vs. Jimmy Anderson, 10 rounds, at Indianapolis; Steve Ketchel vs. Joe Phillips, 8 rounds, at Windsor, Ont.; Johnny Dundee vs. Jack White, 10 rounds, at New York; Leach Cross vs. Young Shugrue, 10 rounds, at New York; Phil Cross vs. Jack O'Brien, 10 rounds, at New York.

Thursday—Steve Ketchel vs. Art Stewart, 10 rounds, at Hammond, Ind; Kid Thomas vs. J. Clement, 20 rounds, at Rome, Italy.

Saturday—Clarence ("Wildcat") Ferns vs. Tommy Howell, 15 rounds, at St. Joseph, Mo.; Billy Perkins vs. Al Woergin, 10 rounds, at Rhinelander, Wis.

Anderson Makes Good

Judging from the reports that have come up from the south on the Bud Anderson-Sammy Trott go, the Vancouver lightweight is all that his admirers claim. This boy was hanging around here a month ago looking for any old kind of a chance and the promoters let him slip through their fingers into the ever waiting hands of the enterprising Tom McCarey.

As a result, Anderson by his easy win over the Columbus boy, is a legitimate card and entitled to demand a substantial sum for his appearance.

Jim Griffin is trying to get him to come north now for his February card and meet Willie Hoppe or Red Watson in a 10 round bout, with two other attractions on the same card.

Gunboat Smith and Porky Flynn are mentioned as one match, provided the Gunner disposes of Jack Geyer whom he meets for the Wheelmen's club on the night of February 5.

Gossip of the Boxers

Young Henry Hickey has gone into hard training at Al White's for his bout on February 5 with Hans Wagner the tough little San Francisco newsboy.

Bob McAllister will be induced to enter the four round game if coin is an inducement. They are jingling it under his eyes.

Johnny Dundee of New York meets "Special Delivery" Hirsch tonight at the Olympia Athletic club in New York city. Dundee expects to send Special Delivery on his way.

One Round Hogan of California meets Johnny Lore in New York Thursday night for 10 rounds.

Joe Mandot evidently does not think Murphy will put him in the hospital, for he has signed up to meet both Jack Britton and Knockout Brown for 10 rounds each, the bouts to be staged in New York over the 10 round route.

Eddie Campi will have a lot of admirers pulling for him when he meets Kid Williams of Baltimore at Vernon on February 11.

Jimmy Clabby has been matched to box George Brown at Milwaukee, January 31.

Johnny Kilbane and Young Driscoll will meet in Brooklyn January 28.

Mike Glover of South Boston and Kid Graves are booked for a bout at Brooklyn, February 1.

Willie Lewis is again wanted in Paris. He has an offer to meet Jeff Smith for $3500, February 5.

George Carpentier, the French heavyweight is expected to arrive in this country the middle of next month.

Johnny Summers, welterweight champion of England, is on his way to Australia to engage in five battles.

Tom Foley, South Boston lightweight, is doing some hard training at Mike Devenney's, Highland Lake. Foley wants to meet McDonough, Gallant, Nixon or any lightweight in the east.

WHEELMEN DATE CHANGED.

The Oakland Wheelmen's club has changed its date from February 5, to Tuesday, February 4. Matchmaker Rohan decided to make the change out of courtesy to the promoters of the Petroskey-Grande bout at Flosden arena in Vallejo, on the night of the fifth. This will mean that quite a boat load of fans will make the trip to see Wednesday evening's scrap. Petroskey is said to be ready for a "come-back."

THIS WOULD BE DUCK SOUP FOR HAPPY HOGAN

OAKS FIGURE ON FORM TO AGAIN WIN PENNANT

First 'Handicap' of Season Gives Line of Various Contenders

PRETTY FAR AHEAD, BUT HERE GOES

OAKS.—Last year's champions are practically intact and figure to repeat. Outfielder Patterson's place sought by Ody Abbott, Jess Becker and George Schirm, all heavy hitters. Same pitching staff.

TIGERS.—Should be the runner-up again. Hogan will have a very powerful twirling staff and a good addition to the receiving staff in "Rowdy" Elliott. Hap's pep and knowledge of how to handle bad actors will do the rest.

SACRAMENTO—Will be the contender this year under Harry Wolverton. Atkin isn't through yet with his purchases and the team will be formidable when it takes the field.

PORTLAND.—McCredie has five outfielders and two men for every position in the field. The team looks to be very fast, but weak at the bat and uncertain in the twirling department.

LOS ANGELES—Will feel the absence of Pete Daley, Berger and Heitmuller. Dillon, also, will probably play the bench.

SEALS.—Good enough bunch of ball players, but lacking in confidence and spirit. Need a Moses to take 'em by the hand and pull them along. Same trouble as last year.

(By BILLY FITZ.)

Of course they have not even been called to quarters yet, but the entry lists are nearly made out, and the dope sheets are at our service, so you can take the above handicap for what it is worth. A month hence it may look different, but right now that's the way they look to the baseball scribe.

The Oaks constitute the only known quantity in the Coast League line-ups. They certainly figure to do as well as last year, and should go even better, because they will enter the lists with all the advantages that comes to a veteran team that has the confidence of pennant winners and the same reliable pitching staff. If any regular player is displaced, it will only be because a better man has been discovered. Patterson's loss will not be felt so keenly, because Pat, though a valuable player, was incapacitated during several strenuous weeks, and Abbott managed to fill the role acceptably. This year Abbott, Jess Becker and George Schirm will try out for the garden. The last two are rated at over .300 hitters and were lead-off men in the Portsmouth, Va., and Buffalo teams. During most of last season the illness of Manager Bud Sharpe threw the burden of management upon the shoulders of Honus Mitze, this year's director-in-chief, who, if the truth were known, was largely responsible for the Oaks winning the 1912 Jolly Rodger. So, it is not difficult to see why the Oaks figure to beat the barrier for a flying start.

CAN'T KEEP HOGAN DOWN.

Happy Hogan's homeless wanderers will probably be up in the front again, for there is no holding this jolly old rascal down. Hogan is going to depend largely upon his staff of twirlers and expects to get another from the big bush to add to his present likely string. Happy believes that both Harkness and Koesther will reform and have a new lease of life as Tigers, and they probably will. Roy Hitt, Castleton, Gray, Brackenridge, Edmonson, Stewart and Baum all figure to prove serious obstacles in the path of leading swatters. "Rowdy" Elliott is another bad actor, but a mighty good catcher and a clouter. Hogan will have a heavy hitting outfield and a fat infield, as follows:

Infielders—Patterson, R. Brashear, Hallihan, Litschi, Hosp, Burrell.

Outfielders—Kane, Carlisle, Bayless and McDonald.

WOLVERTON WILL SURPRISE.

The surprise of the season is likely to develop in Sacramento under Harry Wolverton. Capital City fans are already enthusiastic over the fact that Jack Atkin has placed his bankroll at the disposition of Wolverton. Harry is putting quite a few dents in it, and figures to put a few more in before the season starts. Wolverton is a natural born leader, and his experience with the Yankees last season should make his presence even as bench manager more valuable. There will be probably two more additions to the club roster, which to date reads as follows:

Pitchers—Arellanes, Drucke, Stroud, Shultz, Munsell, Peters, Alberts, Hardon, Williams, Frink, Harper.

Catchers — Bliss, Cheek, Reitmeyer, Kreitz.

Infielders—Miller, O'Rourke, Stark, Irelan.

Outfielders—Kenworthy, Moran, Shinn, Dressan, Lewis.

Utility men—Manager Wolverton, Heister, Van Buren.

McCREDIE'S TWIRLERS WEAK.

McCredie, though he boasts of the highest salaried team in the Coast League, looks to be shy on dependable twirlers. The new men are an uncertain quantity. The latest word on Ben Henderson is that the erratic player will not appear after all. He has been sent a contract, but has not been heard from. James, Krapp, West, Carson, Higginbotham and Ellis will not set the league on fire.

With the addition of Nig Peters to the Beaver staff of infielders, the Portland club will have two infielders for every position during the training season. Peters wrote the Portland manager yesterday that he would report this spring.

Peters has had considerable experience playing around the first sack, and in case McCormick doesn't hit well enough, Peters can be substituted. At second Hellman or Rodgers could be used, with either Kores or Courtney at short and Lindsay and McCormick will fight it out at third.

In the outfield the Beavers have five on the list: Cunningham, Doane, Fitzgerald, Krueger and Chadbourne.

ANGELS LOSE GOOD MEN.

Pop Dillon intends to stick by his determination to remain out of the game, except occasionally as a pinch hitter. This, in itself, will be quite a blow to Los Angeles, for the old Silver Fox was a mighty dependable man in a crisis. The absence of Berger, the best shortstop in the league, will be another blow, while the death of Heitmuller and the drafting of Pete Daley will deprive the Angels of two of the hardest hitting outfielders in the league. The pitching staff shows little apparent improvement. Maggert and Ellis will be in the outfield with Moore, Lobell and Driscoll.

THE SEALS NEED HELP.

Alas, the poor Seals! Last year, at this time, the San Francisco sporting writers were loudly claiming the pennant and everything in sight. This year there is a sad, strange and merciful silence. Even Bill Reidy is in hiding, and at this date the Seals don't even seem to know who is going to lead them to the cellar door. There is some talk of Captain Del Howard replacing Reidy; unless the latter shows up soon. The Seals lack esprit d'corps, whatever that is. They have good players in the ranks, but they have got the habit of being flash-in-the-pans and need a new Moses to weld them together and furnish an inspiration for victory. With the purchase of Dr. Forrest Thomas from the St. Paul club for the reputed sum of $1500, 1913 twirling staff of the Seals will consist of Thomas, Henley, Fanning, McCorry, Baker, Delhi, Bonner, Cadreau of Spokane, Hughes and Standridge of the Western Canada League, and C. Miller of Lemoore. There's enough of them, surely, but do the Oaks need to worry after what they did to the veterans in the bunch last year? Worry a house and lot, I don't think! The catching staff will consist of Dutch Auer, Sepulveda, Roy Kuhn, a busher, and one Easterner yet to be secured. Claude Berry will probably go to Spokane. Looks bad, doesn't it? Young McCarl, the Lemoore wonder, will try to take the first sack away from Del Moore; while at second, Wuffli, Wagner, Eddie Colligan of Des Moines and Walter Cartwright of Spokane will fight it out. Roy Corhan will care for short, and Willis Hogan is in the lead for third base. McArdle will probably be the utility infielder.

In the outfield Issy Hoffman, an Oakland cast-off, will probably win a berth, while Heine Zimmerman, Howard Mundorff and several bushers will try for the other vacancies in the garden. Nothing has been heard from Matty McIntire, who is supposed to be on the outfield roster. Del Howard may play the outfield if the Lemoore boy is as good as he has been touted. At best, however, the Seals look like candidates for the bottom of the well.

DEVEREUX SHINING STAR ON POLO FIELD

SAN MATEO, Jan. 27. — Devereux' sensational riding featured yesterday's victory of the Wolves, a picked polo team which played the Lambs on El Cerrito field. Devereux did not miss a shot at goal, scoring eight. His riding was the most brilliant ever seen.

Polodom learned yesterday that a team from Boise City, Idaho, will play in the big International Tournament at San Mateo during March and April. The personnel of the team: Edward Oather, number one; Henry Falk, number two; Chas. Barringer, number three; Herbert Lemp, back and captain; Henry Chapman, alternate.

Here is the detailed score of the game at El Cerrito yesterday in which the Wolves ate the Lambs up to the tune of 15½ to 5 with handicap:

Wolves, Red.	Goals.	Fls.	Lambs, White.	Goals.
Tobin	4	0	Elkins	0
Devereux	8	½	De Guine	0
Garritt	2	0	Driscoll	2
Tevis	2	0	Hastings	0
	16 m.	½	Handicap	3
				5
16 goals less ½				15½
2 goals plus 3 handicap				5

COFFEY TO TRAIN GRANDE.

VALLEJO, Jan. 27.—Walter Coffey, the San Francisco middleweight, will arrive tomorrow to train Charles Grande for his coming bout with Sailor Ed Petroskey of Yerba Buena island.

AL WHITE WILL CLOSE DOWN FAMOUS CAMP

Financially a Failure Since Races and Baseball Have Deserted the Place.

The passing of Al White's training camp this week will be a mournful event in the world of sport. It is a celebrated institution among fighters, trainers, and sporting authorities of the west. The passing of the racetrack, and then of the ball park, made the "St. Julian Hotel" financially impractical, and White has sold his license and will auction off his belongings.

White had a lease on the ball grounds and has given it up to the owner, Mrs. L. Perez, who is undecided just what to do with the property. It will probably be subdivided.

Henry Hickey, Percy Cove, Tommy McFarland, Joe Azavedo, and other fighters who have been training at White's have been notified that they will have to leave.

SPORT SPARKS

CUBAN STILL WINNING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.— Defeating S. Rubinstein in thirty-one moves tonight, Jose R Capablanca, the Cuban chess champion, not only scored his sixth consecutive victory in the sixth round of the American National Chess Masters' tournament, his nearest competitor, Jaffo, who played against Marshall, had to be content with a draw.

HAUGHTON-SCOTT TEAM WINS.

BOSTON, Jan. 27. — Percy D. Haughton, the Harvard football coach, and his partner, H. D. Scott, of Boston, won the national amateur racquet doubles championship by defeating the title holders, Quincy A. Shaw and George R. Fearing Pr., also of Boston, in the final match of this year's tournament. The scores were 15-11, 8-15, 15-9, 18-13, 15-12.

BRITISH POLOISTS COMING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. — Captain W. D. Miller, of the British army, has arrived here on the steamer Campania to make preparations for the coming of the British polo team which will meet the Americans in a series for the James Gordon Bennett international cup in June.

CANADIANS WIN.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 27. — In a brilliant polo game yesterday the Coronado team, reinforced by two Pasadena players, gave the Canadians the hardest battle they have had during the present tournament. The Calgary four had defeated the Pasadena team twice and Coronado once before today's game. In the hope of prevailing against the Canadians Major C. G. Ross, the Coronado captain, drafted Carleton Burke and John Hobbs of Pasadena and sent the picked four against the Northerners. Hard riding and desperate chances were the features of the play, and although the Canadians led throughout, their margin at the finish was small, the final score standing 6¾ to 5.

CHICAGO'S SPRING CALL.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 27. — Coach "Pat" Page of the University of Chicago today will issue a call for all of the candidates for the baseball team to appear in Bartlett Gymnasium for the first practice of the 1913 season. It is the belief of Page that the prospects for a championship conference team are better this season than for several years past.

Santa Monica is an eleventh hour contender for the honor of succeeding Vernon in the Coast League. We see the fine Italian hand of Signor Ed Maier, who thinks the Venice citizens need a little spurring. Maier owns property at Venice that would be benefited by the town getting on the baseball map. Nuff 'ced.

It is now said that every club in the American League contributed its share in the famous $120,000 contract handed Frank Chance. This was done on the basis of figuring that every club that played New York would profit by the increased gate receipts. There is no doubt that Chance will be a big card.

Miss Fay King, who is now Battling Nelson's wife, illustrated several books for the boxer and earned the latter's admiration for her skill as cartoonist. We may now expect that all of Bat's typewriter products will come to us illustrated. Bat will get the space now, we wouldn't think of refusing a lady.

Reports from San Diego, where "Toots" Schultz has been wintering, say that the big Princeton pitcher, bought by Sacramento from Philadelphia, still suffers from the dislocated knee that sent him out of major league company. It is likely to go back on him at any moment. Should think Wolverton had had enough of cripples.

We have been waiting patiently for some announcement from the Wheelmen club as to who was to be the referee for their bouts on February 5. Frank Schuler would be generally acceptable.

Among those at the ringside when Jack Geyer and Gunner Smith meet here on the evening of February 5, will be the only James J. Corbett. Here's a chance for Manager Moffit to show class as a promoter.

By the way, what became of the protest from the hill? Funny how some things evaporate.

Somebody asked McGraw what a baseball manager needed most to be successful. Mugsy replied "Good ball players." Heluva question.

Forest Thomas, the Drummer pitcher, tells a story concerning "Lefty" George, a southpaw pitcher in the Southern League and who formerly was a twirler in the old Western Association.

George was scheduled to pitch a game in Memphis for his club, which was crippled to such an extent that it had no reliable twirlers. George had been worked every other day and was in poor condition himself.

Just before time for the game the manager walked past George and said: "Hurry and warm up."

George, who, unfortunately, has a hare lip, replied:

"Warm upth your outfielders; I'm ready."—St. Joseph Gazette.

Yes, it's tough how the bunch are all leaving today the old game flat on its back—

That we'll never see Archer nor Marsans nor Cobb, nor other stars out of the pack;

But it's queer when you turn to the line-up at the "Opening Chorus of Bing," That the first blokes to quit on the diamond each fall are the first ones at bat in the spring.

"I'm making no predictions," said Manager McFudd,

"The team that seems a winner may land with quite a thud.

Again, I say I'm honest when I don't intend to brag,

But—the club that wins the pennant will beat us to win the flag."

"The finish, well, you see my boy," said Manager McMann,

"It's going to be a tough one, and we may be an also ran,

But I'll tell you this, young fellow, though I don't intend to brag,

The team that cops the bacon will have to beat us to the rag."

"Our team's composed of youngsters," said Manager McSwat.

"They're likely looking fellows, but they need to learn a lot.

But take a tip from papa—you can play it straight for place—

The team that beats my hitters will cop the blooming' race."

"I never say in winter," said Manager McGagg,

"The way my team will figure when we're starting for the rag.

But, and I mean it, you can say, and take it straight from me,

The team that cops the bunch will beat us out, you see."

"Red" Held, one of the new indicator gents of Praxy Baum, is said to be just as good at fighting as he is at umpiring. He comes from "Goose Hill," in St. Louis, where the higher up you go the tougher they are. Held lives on top.

It looks as though there are an awful lot of people anxious to prove that Jim Thorpe was once a professional baseball player. Is it a sin to earn a living as a professional athlete? From all the noise you would think that Thorpe was accused of murder.

The signing of William J. Phyle as a Coast League umpire by President Baum probably means the blue envelope for Umpire Frank Newhouse. The latter has been anticipating this and is lining up a berth at Denver on the racing commission.

T. & P. TEAM WINS.

The snappy Covington team was beaten yesterday by the team representing Taft & Pennoyer, score 8 to 6. Christianson, formerly of the O. H. S., took the mound for the winners, and Covington and Gilbert pitched for the losers. The Covingtons would like more games. Address F. E. Collins, 461 Thirteenth street.

Livermore Selected

Livermore will be the training camp for the Oaks this season. The choice has been made by the Oakland baseball club and by Manager Mitze, upon assurance from Livermore merchants that they would agree to every request made by the local club. The team will go into training on February 24.

ORIGINALS ARE EASY WINNERS OVER YOSEMITE

The Originals of Oakland showed their real class yesterday afternoon and walked away with the long end of a 20 to 0 score at Freeman's park, where the Yosemite 11 pluckily tried to stave off defeat. Neither side scored in the first quarter, but after that Incell got busy and his work featured the balance of the game.

The local champions kicked off and Left Half Incell ran the ball to the 50 yard line. On the next play the ball was given to Incell again and this time he found a hole in the Yosemite's right end and hurled the line for 20 yards. The ball was again given to Incell and he gained ten yards by a right end run.

On the next play Left Guard Steinbeck did not gain any ground on a fake forward pass.

In the second period of the game Steinbeck made a touchdown and Quarterback Moir kicked an easy goal.

Only once were the Originals in danger of being scored on and that was in the last period when Right Half Gregg of the Yosemite's made a long end run on a forward pass. The ball went to the Originals on the third down and was immediately kicked into the Yosemite territory and run for another touchdown by Incell. The latter kicked an easy goal.

The officials were: Referee, McKenna; umpires, Williams and Moore.

MARYLAND 12, BROOKLYNS 0.

BEGINS SUIT TO RECOVER BOND

Municipality Takes Action Against Bay Cities' Telephone Company.

Suit against the Bay Cities Home Telephone Company for the recovery of $100,000 bond filed in 1905 with the City of Oakland was authorized by the City Council this morning on the recommendation of City Attorney Ben F. Woolner and Assistant City Attorney Charles A. Beardsley. The city attorney was asked several days days ago to report as to the proper procedure in connection with the merger of the Home Telephone with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, and this morning recommended the commencement of suit.

"We believe that we have a good case against the old company and its bondsmen on this ground," said Beardsley this morning. "The attack made in San Francisco and Berkeley upon the merger itself has failed in the courts, but no attempt has been made along the line we intend to pursue. The terms of the Home company franchise included a provision that that concern should not sell out to or merge with another concern without the consent of the city council. This provision has clearly been violated, and the bond would seem to be forfeited."

Beardsley filed the following letter in council this morning as a basis for action by the council:

"In reply to your request for an opinion as to the feasibility of bringing suit against the Home Telephone Company of Alameda county and the bondsmen on the company's bond, executed to the City of Oakland on the 5th day of December, 1905, we desire to advise you as follows:

"Whether or not it is possible to recover on the bond given is, to a large extent, an open question. There have been some cases decided by the courts bearing more or less directly upon the questions of law involved in this matter, but there has been no adjudication by the courts of this State that we would regard as determinative of the issues herein involved.

"In view, however, of the entire situation, and in view of the law as we understand it to be expressed by decisions in other States, we feel that the city would be able to establish a case against the telephone company and the bondsmen upon its bond; and it is probable, if a recovery can be had at all, that it can be had for the full amount of the bond.

"If your honorable body desires a suit brought for the purpose of collecting, if possible, upon this bond, the proper procedure would be for you to pass a resolution directing the City attorney to commence such an action.

"Respectfully submitted,

"BEN F. WOOLNER, City Attorney.

"By CHARLES A. BEARDSLEY, Assistant City Attorney."

GOLD MINE FOUND IN SUTRO FOREST

Discoverers of Bonanza Lose Location of Mother Lode.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—A new gold mine has been found right close to the geographical heart of San Francisco. It's a high grade proposition, paying $175 to the ton.

Not only has it been found, but it has been lost again. That's the rub.

Therefore there has been an exodus of Argonauts in this the twentieth century, and Sutro Forest looks like the Mother Lode of '49. They are prospecting and prying and digging and scenting around the wooded hill under the shadow of Twin Peaks, and later bulletins say that reinforcements continue to arrive in increased numbers as the news of the find spreads.

Dan Sheehan found it, he and his son, John.

The Sheehans live at 1137 Capital street, Ingleside. Sheehan senior is a member of the little forest reserve staff which looks after conservation in the center of San Francisco, patrolling Sutro Forest.

Sheehan and his son were sweeping out the woods and dusting the trees late last week when the younger man kicked up a glittering rock.

"Look at the fools' gold," he said.

"Then I'm a fool," cried his father, jumping as he examined the sample.

They dug around without loss of time and uncovered a quartz ledge. Enough of the rock was outcropped to make it look good.

"We've struck it!" said the old man, dancing a home rule jig, and the twain filled their pockets and their hats with samples.

They went to an assayer. The next day when they went back he told them their rock assayed $176 a ton.

So the Sheehans went back to their bonanza dancing on air. They had it all framed up to get the mineral rights for themselves. But when they got to the forest again they couldn't find the mine. They searched and they searched and they searched, and they haven't found it yet.

This is one of the most unusual gold finds ever reported in San Francisco, but it is far from being the first. San Francisco is, in a measure, a city built on gold. Now and then tiny pockets or ledges are found, and occasionally free gold is discovered in the sand. Never before, however, has a ledge paying $175 to the ton been discovered.

MASONIC RITES PLANNED FOR MINING EXPERT

The funeral of Edward Treadwell, formerly superintendent of the Bonanza King mine in Trinity, will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Masonic Temple, Twelfth and Washington streets, where the last rites will be administered by the Masonic body. Members of the Masonic lodge, No. 218, of which he was a member, will attend the services en masse. The Oakland Scottish Rites will also be represented.

The death of the late miner came as a shock to his family and friends, who mourn their loss. He was killed Tuesday, January 14, in Trinity Center in a snowslide. He was 37 years old, and was a native of San Francisco.

The deceased is survived by a wife, Mrs. Bessie Treadwell, and a daughter, Vera Belle Treadwell. He was the son of James and Louisa Treadwell, and the brother of Charles and George Treadwell and Mrs. M. J. Horswill.

ASKS PROBING OF LABOR CONDITIONS

The Investigation of Garment Working Industry Proposed by Berger.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Investigation of conditions in the garment working industry in New York was proposed in a resolution today by Representative Berger the socialist member from Wisconsin. The resolution would authorize the appointment of a special committee of seven members to inquire into the conditions surrounding the garment-making trade and the recent strike.

In the preamble of his resolution, Berger sets forth that the New York clothing industry supplies the trade of a large section of the country through interstate trade; that the wages of the industry are so low "that healthy surroundings and a decent standard of living have become almost impossible."

CONDITIONS INSANITARY.

"It is further charged," continues the preamble, "that vice and crime are bred of the needless misery coincident to the manufacture of the nation's clothing, and further, that said manufacture is carried on in filthy and insanitary places saturated with germs of consumption, smallpox and scarlet fever and other contagious diseases."

Berger's resolution sets forth that clothing made in such conditions is a serious menace and danger to the welfare and health of all.

In a statement accompanying his resolution Berger said that he desired to show "the close connection which the intolerable economic conditions of the garment workers bear to crime and vice on the one hand and how the economic conditions revenge themselves upon all the people, because the people allow them."

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

PACIFIC COURTEOUS CONTINUOUS SERVICE

Hot Water

The economy of heating water with gas is apparent when it is considered that you consume fuel only when you need hot water. It is not necessary to keep a fire going all day to get hot water now and then.

Both health and cleanliness demand hot water.

And the easiest, most economical and most satisfying way to get it is to use gas.

This is another instance of the value and convenience of "Pacific Service."

Is it in your home?

"Pacific Service" is "Perfect Service"

THISTLES AND BARBARIANS FIGHT IT OUT TO A TIE

Another week has gone by with the soccer throne still waiting for an occupant. The Thistles and Barbarians played another tie game yesterday afternoon at Freeman's Park, each team succeeding in scoring one goal. The first Barbarian score was a funny one. Fifteen minutes after the start of the second period Hudson took the ball down the field and sent in a fast shot that hit the cross-bar. Timmis was in a good position in front of the goal and took the rebound with his head and sent the ball through the goal.

Fifteen more minutes and the Thistles got the ball in front of goal and a lively scrimmage ensued. During the scuffle "Soldier" Aitken got the ball at his toe and banged it past McRitchie before the Barbarian goal-keeper could move to save his goal.

Shortly before the end of the game the Scots had a fine chance to make a winning score. Kempton was dribbling the ball into goal when McCaskie tripped him and the refere promptly awarded a penalty kick to the Thistles. Towns took the shot at goal and planted the ball squarely in McRitchie's hands. Mac quickly punted it out of danger and the Thistles lost their chance.

The teams lined up as follows:

Referee—Lemon.

The Vampires and Rangers engaged in a practice game at Lincoln Park, Alameda. The Rangers won by a score of 2 goals to 1.

INTER-CLASS LEAGUE HAS SECURED GROUNDS

Arrangements have been practically concluded for playing grounds for the games of the Inter-Club Baseball League during the coming season, which opens on Sunday, February 16, with games at San Mateo and Oakland. The Peninsula club of San Mateo will play all of their home games at the Recreation grounds at that place, while the Metropolitan club's home contests are to be played off on the Larkspur diamond, which is close by their headquarters a Escalle, in Marin county. The Seminole club of Oakland has secured the DeFremery park grounds, which are convenient to the Sixteenth street railway station. The three San Francisco organizations included in the league, the California Grays, L'Allegro club and Smilers' club, have made arrangements to play off most of the games scheduled for San Francisco diamonds at the Southside playgrounds, Seventh and Harrison streets, and the Jackson playgrounds, on Seventeenth street near the Potrero. It is possible that a few games may be played off at the St. Ignatius grounds later in the season, when more favorable weather conditions allow the clay diamond on these grounds to harden sufficiently to make fast playing possible.

PHYSICAL TRAINING PLAN OF HAYWARD

Boys and Girls of City to Have New Line of Recreation.

HAYWARD, Jan. 27.—Public-spirited citizens of Hayward are starting a movement to provide recreation and physical training instruction for the boys and girls in the city.

"It is hoped that this question of recreation and training for the young will become a government responsibility not only in Hayward but in San Leandro and the neighboring towns," says P. J. Crosby, president of the Social Service Association.

A special meeting of the Social Service Association will be held tomorrow night, when the report of a committee appointed to investigate this matter will be considered. A committee consisting of Jesse Woods, Dr. F. W. Browning, medical officer of health, and Rev. B. Naylor, have been asked to make arrangements for procuring an instructor, who will train the young men and school children. The army authorities have granted the use of the armory for this purpose.

"This is just the start of a big scheme, which we are bent on bringing about," said P. J. Crosby, this morning. "We realize that this idea of physical training and recreation is going to raise the social status of the city, and it is our idea to have a recreation park of from four to five acres. But we want the cooperation of the government, which ought to make important social affairs such as this, part of their business. San Leandro and other cities should take up this matter along with us."

While the subject of providing for the physical traning and recreation of the young people of Hayward is likely to the principal business at tomorrow night's meeting of the Social Service Association, other questions of importance may come up, notably that of a proposed new town hall. The association has been endeavoring to bring about the erection of a new hall, and to make an effort to have the town trustees take action in the matter.

This meeting of the association is the first since before Christmas. New committees were to be elected.

NEW FACTORY ON 'MADE' LAND, PLAN

S. F. Contractor Wants to Fill in 1000 Acres of Richmond Land With Refuse.

RICHMOND, Jan. 27. — Some time ago a plan was submitted by B. Schmidt, a San Francisco contractor, to fill in a lot of submerged tidelands along the bay shore here with garbage from the big town across the bay. The matter was discussed by the press and the people, including the health commissioner, and it was pretty generally agreed that the plan was not agreeable to this city on account of the probability of the refuse so dumped being unsanitary.

Schmidt has modified his first proposition in a manner that may meet acceptance on the part of the city authorities, who will likely take up the matter at the regular council meeting tonight and investigate it. Schmidt was here Saturday and yesterday in consultation with Dr. C. R. Blake, city health commissioner, and agrees if permission is given him he will drive a line of piling around 1000 acres of good land on which to build factories.

On part of this land Schmidt is to build a large paper board factory to utilize the waste paper picked out of the refuse. He offers to give bond that no unsanitary condition will be created, and to stop immediately if such should prove to be the case.

Schmidt states that if this fill is made the Southern Pacific will extend its tracks along its entire length and build wharves and freight terminals to handle the overflow business from Oakland. A conference of the city and health authorities and the war department engineering corps is to be held at an early date to investigate all details.

TO FILE STATEMENTS FOR FIXING OF RATES

VALLEJO, Jan. 27.—The City Council will pass a resolution requiring the public corporations in this city to file yearly statements of their business and profits. This is preliminary to the fixing of rates for such public utilities for the coming year, which, under the terms of the city charter, must be done some time in February.

While the council hopes to delegate this work to the Railroad Commission in the near future, in the meantime it intends to obtain more explicit information.

OIL PRICE ADVANCED.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 27.—The Ohio Oil Company today advanced the price of North Lima oil to $1.31; South Lima and Indiana to $1.30 each and Illinois to $1.14.

STOCKS IN N. Y. MARKET HEAVY

Speculation Restricted at the Opening, But Depression is Overcome.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The prevailing tone of Americans in the London market helped to restrict speculation here and at the opening lower prices of Americans were reflected in some heaviness among the international stocks. The market later overcame this influence and advanced, but the movement was so slight that traders found it rather more profitable to sell on rallies. Business was further held in check by uncertainty whether the Supreme Court would hand down its decision in the Minnesota rate case today.

The street waited longer than usual for news from Washington that no important decisions would be made today and sold stocks in the interim. Prices, however, were not affected greatly, speculation being too quiet to cause any decided movement.

The undertone grew heavier and there was concentrated pressure against Union Pacific, which lost a point. Recessions in other leaders averaged about one-half a point.

The market closed steady. Tobacco stocks advanced in striking fashion and there was increased activity and strength in Can, which rose 2 points.

Bonds were easier.

BANKERS TO MEET AT BANQUET TABLE

One-Quarter of Financial interests of U. S. Represented.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 27.—Nearly one-quarter of the banking resources of the United States, it is estimated, will be represented at the annual banquet of the Philadelphia Bankers' Association, which will be held here on Wednesday night. More than 600 guests will be present. Many who were witnesses in the "money trust" investigations will be among those present.

Former United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, who will make his first public address since resigning from the Senate, will be the principal speaker. He will respond to the toast, "The Business Men's Duty to the State."

More than three score bankers, railroad officials and corporation heads are expected to attend.

NOT SALTS AND PILLS, 'CASCARETS'

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Take a Cascaret.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out,

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

ORPHAN DROPS FROM TRAIN INTO NEW HOME

STRONG CITY, Kan., Jan. 27.—When Harry O'Brien, a fourteen-year-old orphan from St. Louis tumbled from the blind baggage of a train running thirty miles an hour here Saturday night, he did not know that he was dropping into a home where he would be cherished and loved.

Charles Beach, city marshal here, picked O'Brien up, bruised and bleeding and took him to his home to give him care. So attached did Marshal Beach and his wife become to the boy that they decided to keep him and announced today that they probably would adopt him.

FRUITVALE PLANS RECEPTION FOR GERMAN VISITORS

MISS GENEVIEVE SCHNARR.

FRUITVALE, Jan. 27.—Members of the German community in Fruitvale plan to raise a sum of $1000 to help entertain the big German Catholic convention, which is to make Fruitvale its headquarters in September of this year.

Among those who are working to raise the money are the San Francisco Benevolent Society and the St. Joseph's Sodality of Fruitvale, and the members of these institutions are to hold monthly entertainments and parties for this purpose.

The first of these entertainments, a whist party, will be held in the St. Joseph's Sodality gymnasium Wednesday, January 29. Among the women who are interested in the endeavor to make the coming convention a success are Miss Genevieve Schnarr, Miss Josephine Bucher and Miss Luez Kreig. John Stromberg, Albert Muller, John Strotkamp, Frank Franz are also taking a leading part.

Hundreds of delegates are to attend the German Catholic convention, which is one of the biggest gatherings held in the State. Last year the convention met in Sacramento.

'ETERNAL WALTZ IS ORPHEUM WONDER

The Splendid Tabloid Musical Comedy Scores Heavily at Oakland House.

"THE ETERNAL WALTZ."

C. F. Smithson, principal comedian Princess Theater, London... Cyril Chadwick Charlie Vex, low comedian Princess Theater, London.....Henry Vincent Gustave, proprietor of Cafe "Chapeau Rouge" .....Jules Epailly Karl Heller, a cavalry officer.George O'Dell Feo Lahll, Operettenkonig... Jules Epailly Lulu von Linden, a celebrated Viennese singer ..... Mabel Berra

Its magnitude and splendor superior to anything vaudeville has yet known, "The Eternal Waltz" is a triumph. Yesterday Orpheum audiences quickly proved it. It swarms with pretty girls, is crammed with glittering costumes, rings with tuneful music; its staging glitters and its ensembles are worthy of tthe best stage managing.

But better than all of that, "The Eternal Waltz" holds the stop-watch on musical comedy. It sets the time-limit and all else for those lighter operettas that are rained on America. There is just enough of it, in fact—enough of music, of girls, low comedy and the like.

What London is said to have seen as a satire on the waltz craze has become an Americanized and condensed musical comedy with all the elements that go to make success in the light opera line. Two scenes are presented—the music factory of Feo Lahll (the title a play on the name of Leo Fall, the composer) and the cafe "Chapeau Rouge," Vienna. The latter is by far the most brilliant cafe setting that musical comedy of any admission has given to Oakland.

LEADERS ARE TALENTED.

Miss Mabel Berra, as Lulu von Linden, gives to the piece a dash of personality and a splendid voice that does full justice to the splendid waltz Fall has written. Opposite her plays Cyril Chadwick, an English comedian of the elongated and British type, who supplies much of the comedy. Chadwick, as the principal comedian of a London theater, comes to Vienna to procure from Feo Lahll a waltz for his latest vehicle. He is mistaken for the composer, when he visits the cafe, and out of that situation comes the story.

The cafe introduces a scene of splendor, a multitude of fair women and seven violinists who play well and look better. The production is on a magnificent scale and is staged with a high degree of skill. It sets a new altitude mark for vaudeville.

An enlarged orchestra is conducted by Arthur Weld, who waved the baton over the original productions of "Florodora," "The Merry Widow," "The Pink Lady" and several other much-talked-of light operas.

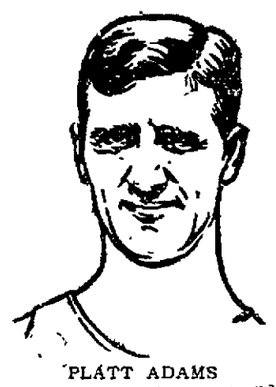

He has been the chief director of the Savage musical comedies, having been the original director of everything that Colonel Savage brought out for ten years. He is the highest salaried man wielding the baton in road shows in this country, and handles twenty men in the orchestra, in the present production.

The extra musicians, stage hands, supplies for stage and furnishings for dressing rooms, entail an extra expense upon the local Orpheum of close to $1000, which goes to show what the last word in vaudeville amounts to, in a financial way.

The remainder of this week's bill measures up to the Orpheum standard. Barry and Wolford, "At the Song Booth," capture much applause; the Gordon boys do likewise; Alf Grant and Ethel Hoag have a merry time with a trunk; Joe Morris and Charlie Allen sing satisfactorily numerous comic songs. Wilson's Comedy Circus scores heavily and Louis Stone, with his topsy turvy dancing, is a splendid opener.

Join with other famous Americans in Praising Tuxedo Tobacco

PLATT ADAMS

Platt Adams, winner of the standing high jump at the Olympic Games at Stockholm last July, says:

"When I want to smoke, I want Tuxedo—always. A corking good nerve-steadier I advise it for all jumpers."

Platt Adams

THE history of Tuxedo tobacco is unique in many respects. The now famous "Tuxedo process"—by which all the bite and sting is removed from the best old Burley tobacco—was discovered by Dr. R. A. Patterson, a physician of Richmond, Virginia, the founder of the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company.

Many of Dr. Patterson's friends, because their mouths and throats were so sensitive, were compelled to deny themselves the comfort and satisfaction of pipe smoking. Like all other men, the Doctor realized that complete smoke delight was possible only with a pipe. So he put his scientific mind to work on the problem.

He originated the now famous "Tuxedo process" of treating the mildest, sweetest, most thoroughly aged Burley tobacco—and the result was

"PAT" McDONALD

"Pat" McDonald, the big New York policeman who won the 16-lb. shot put, "best hand," at the Olympic Games last summer, says:

"A pipeful of Tuxedo for mine. It's the best tobacco ever. I actually feel stronger after a smoke session with Tuxedo"

Patrick McDonald

MARTIN SHERIDAN

Martin Sheridan, winner of the discus event at the Olympic Games of 1904, 1906 and 1908, and all-around athlete of note, says:

"Tuxedo is a strong card with me. I advise all athletes to stick to Tuxedo. It is the one tobacco that will help them, keep them in trim, prevent them from going 'stale' Tuxedo leads—bar none."

Martin J. Sheridan

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo grew rapidly in public favor without advertising; without any push of any kind, its natural growth reached the stupendous total of fifty or sixty million packages a year. Not until the past few months has it been possible to keep up with the demand for Tuxedo. Now increased facilities make it possible for every man to smoke this best of tobaccos.

Famous Americans in every walk of life smoke and endorse Tuxedo. Our world-famous athletes—the men who triumphed for America at the Olympic Games in Stockholm—are among the thousands who declare that Tuxedo is not only extremely enjoyable, but beneficial.

Tuxedo has many imitators, but no successful one—because no one has yet discovered the "Tuxedo process" that makes Tuxedo the most enjoyable pipe-smoke in the world.

GASTON STROBINO

Gaston Strobino, the plucky little runner who was the first American to finish in the Marathon classic at Stockholm last summer, says:

"Tuxedo is the tobacco for the athlete. It never hurts my wind and always steadies my nerves Tuxedo for me"

Matt McGrath, who hurled the 16-lb hammer further than anyone else in the Olympics at Stockholm last summer, says:

WILSON TO VISIT OUR TERRITORIES

President Elect Plans Personal Inquiry Into Conditions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. — President-elect Wilson plans to personally investigate conditions in the Philippines and Alaska, according to information obtained here yesterday from one of the Governor's closest congressional advisers and from other Congressmen who have been to Trenton recently.

The trip to the Philippines, according to the Governor's present plan is to be made soon after the extra session, which will begin about March 15th, has ended. This would make the date for the new President's voyage to the Far West about the middle of next September.

Wilson is reported to have fully decided to investigate conditions in the Philippines at first hand. This means that there will be no action by Congress on the Jones bill giving the Filipinos independence in 1921 until after Wilson returns.

Since Wilson was elected there has been a steady stream of Congressional callers at Trenton, all talking principally on the Philippine situation. Some of these Senators told Wilson the Philippines should not be given independence, and others insisted on the passage of the Jones bill.

The President-elect already has announced his trip to the Panama canal, and with his Alaska and Philippine jaunts may start out to rival Taft's record as a Presidential traveler.

MRS. HERMAN OELRICHS WILL SOON GO EAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs will leave soon for her home in New York after a week's stay at the Palace.

Mrs. Oelrichs' visit was for the purpose of supervising the removal of her parents' tomb from Mount Calvary to Holy Cross Cemetery.

Mrs. Oelrichs will join her son at her New York residence at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street to spend the remainder of the season.

CONDUCTOR CRUSHED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—While switching his trolley in front of the Ferry building, Charles Cronin, a conductor on the Howard street line, was crushed betwene his own car and a Third and Townsend car. He sustained a broken hip, a broken leg and internal injuries. He was taken to the Central Emergency hospital, where his condition was said to be serious. Cronin lives at 2319 Twenty-fourth street.

FIRST ADMIRAL LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Burial of John Paul Jones.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 27.—With impressive ceremonies the body of John Paul Jones, first admiral of the American navy, yesterday was placed in its final resting place in the new crypt under the naval academy chapel. Secretary of the Navy Meyer, Ambassador Juserand of France and Governor Goldsborough were among those present.

Escorted by a brigade of 700 midshipmen, at whose head was the naval academy band playing a funeral dirge, the casket was transported from Bancroft hall to the chapel on a car drawn by a squad of bluejackets. It then was carried on the shoulders of the "jackies" into the crypt, lowered into a receptacle chiseled out of solid marble and a heavy marble lid placed over it.

Afterward memorial services were held in the chapel, conducted by Chaplain Scott of the naval academy and Chaplain U. G. B. Pierce of the United States Senate. The eulogy was delivered by Chaplain Pierce.

The body of the famous sea fighter had lain in the rotunda of Bancroft Hall since it was brought to this country from France several years ago.

HOLD UP BOXER; BAD BEATING IS REWARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Two soldier thugs who stepped from a Union street car at Leavenworth street early yesterday morning with George Miehling of 1511 Leavenworth street, were unaware that their quarry was a boxing instructor.

Miehling, who is a member of the Olympic Club, put up a fight when the two attacked him and although he succeeded in beating them off, they departed with a gold watch and chain and watch charm presented to him by his pupils at the Olympic Club and valued at $350.

David R. McClary of 2502 Twenty-fifth avenue, Oakland, reported to the police that two soldiers, with whom he had been drinking in a Pacific street saloon, robbed him of $65.

THREE KILLED BY TRAIN.

MARTIN, N. D., Jan. 27.—Jacob Helm and his two sons were killed near here yesterday and Mrs. Helm and their daughter were badly injured when a Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie passenger train struck a wagon in which the Helm family were riding.

WOULD RETAIN FREE LUNCH IN MISSOURI

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 27.—Organized labor here does not favor proposed legislation abolishing free lunch in the saloons of Missouri. The industrial council last night adopted a resolution opposing an anti-free lunch bill now before the legislature. It is held that such legislation would deprive many cooks and bartenders of the means of livelihood and charges that "whisky men are behind the bill because they think more whisky will be sold and less beer."

TO PLEAD UNWRITTEN LAW.

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Olla Bizzell, wife of Lee Bizzell, a farmer living near Tulsa, will plead the unwritten law for shooting and killing John Goodspeed Saturday night. Goodspeed, although having a wife and several children, eloped with Esther Bizzell, the 20 year old daughter of Mrs. Bizzell. They were caught in Montana and brought back to Oklahoma. Goodspeed visited the Bizzell home again. While insisting on seeing the girl, Mrs. Bizzell killed him. Both Bizzell and his wife ran for the shotgun, but she reached it first.
